Cancer Unit Strives For Betterment

The Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society, in this second year has made rapid strides in organizing to make this year even more successful than last.

Thursday is Cancer Dressings Day at the Community House, Virginia Beach. At this time the filler for Cancer dressings and pads are cut and everyone works diligently to meet the ever rising demand. More works are needed by the service team so please call the Cancer Society office-Va. Beach 4675. The Service CO-Chairman Mrs. Sidney Kellam and Mrs. Robert Wahab, Jr., urge you to volunteer your services to assist this worthy cause.

The Transportation Committee was organized in the middle of last year when the need for it became apparent. Mrs. R. M. Aycock, chairman last year, and her wonderful group of women took over this vital job of driving Tumor Clinic patients back and forth to Norfolk for treatment. We consider this group one of the Society's most outstanding from a stand point of patient care. The Princess Anne Unit extends its sincere appreciation to Mrs. Aycock and her committee with the hope that they will be able to continue giving their services. It gives us great pleasure to announce the new chairman of the Transportation Unit-Mrs. Frank D. Tarrall, Jr. Last year Mrs. Tarrall served as a regular driver and we know that with her interest and understanding this committee will grow. We even bigger heights. Volunteer drivers are urgently needed so please contact Mrs. Tarrall or the Cancer Society Office-4675.

As a participating organization in the Community Chest we urge you to help us by helping the Community Chest so Give and Give generously.

Garden Clubs List Coming Year Projects

Voting Hours 6 A.M.-6 P.M.

The hours and locations of the two Virginia Beach voting precincts for next Tuesday's general election have been announced by the Virginia Beach Electoral Board.

The polls will be open from six o'clock in the morning until six o'clock in the evening. Precinct Number One will be at the Bus Station, 29th Street and Arctic Avenue.

Precinct Two will be located in the new building on 31st street just east of the drive-in facility of the Bank of Virginia Beach between Atlantic and Pacific avenues.

At the regular fall meeting of the Council of Garden Clubs of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, which was held Wednesday October 31st at 10:00 A.M. in the Board Room of the Bank of Virginia Beach the following business was discussed, approved and adopted for the coming year:

Plans were discussed for the completion of the beautification of Lakin Road a part of which was planned last Spring. Work is expected to start the latter part of November.

A report was given on the flower show held this past June in conjunction with the Golden Jubilee of Virginia Beach which was very successful and highly complimented by Mr. Hewitt of the Norfolk Park System.

Plans are getting under way in the Council for the creation of a bird sanctuary in this area.

The manager and owner of Seaside Park were complimented on their cooperation and the planting at the end of 31st Street.

Rye grass has been planted the entire length of Atlantic Ave. which will keep it green during the winter months and for the annual Landing Ceremonies at Cape Henry in April which will be of National interest.

Plans were made for a fashion show to be held in January, and a tour of gardens in the Virginia Beach area April 13th to 15th inclusive.

The Council voted to duplicate this spring their highly successful sale of Dogwood trees of 1955, and will also include Crepe Myrtle and Pine trees, in this Spring's project.

The Council voted again to assist the Merchants' Association by judging their Christmas decorations.

Traffic Summons Traffic Reward; Choice Is Yours

Chief of Police, Reeves E. Johnson reports that the Police Department not only will continue to issue traffic summons to those persons who disregard and violate the traffic laws, but that a program has been started of issuing summonses to those persons that are observed exercising proper regulations and sportsmanship in the handling of their motor vehicles.

This summons will be an award and if presented by the receiver to the ticket office of the Bayne or Beach theater, they will receive a courtesy pass to see a local movie without cost, through the courtesy of the management of these theaters.

Sgt. C. R. Baily of the local police has been designated to select various patrolmen to act as spotters from time to time in seeking these courteous drivers to receive awards, based on his or her conduct in driving on the streets of Virginia Beach.

Tuesday's Election Holds Interest Of Virginia Beach - County Voters

Local and national interest is centered around the general election next Tuesday with the congressional race in the First District creating the most interest among the voters of the City of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

Incumbent Congressman Edward J. Robeson is seeking re-election on the Democratic ticket and he is being opposed by Horace E. Henderson, a Williamsburg man, who is running under the Republican banner.

Congressman Robeson's opponent has charged that Robeson is a "do nothing" congressman. Robeson's supporters have countered this charge by citing his record and by expressions of his colleagues in the Congress.

The Presidential race is difficult to analyze on a local basis since the entrance of a State's Rights ticket headed by T. Coleman Andrews, of Richmond. Many observers are of the opinion that Andrews will draw strength from among the Eisenhower Democrats of four years ago and thus will not materially affect the vote for Stevens and Kefauver.

In addition to the Presidential and Congressional election voters of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach will be asked to vote for or against three constitutional amendments.

The amendments deal first with the term of office of the Governor of Virginia, the second with personal property taxes, and thirdly with transportation rates of members of the State Corporation Commission.

In Virginia Beach voters will again ballot via the automatic voting machines. Election officials have advised that sample ballots will be posted which give instructions as to how to register your vote on the machine.

Precinct one in Virginia Beach will be located at the customary place, that is, the fire station next to City Hall at 20th Street and Arctic Avenue. Precinct two will be located in the new building on 31st Street between Atlantic and Pacific Avenues just east of the drive-in facility of the Bank of Virginia Beach.

Polls will open at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and will close at 6 p.m. officials have announced.

Junior League

Junior League Thrift Mobile is sponsoring a rummage sale, Saturday, Nov. 3 from 10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Clothing and shoes for children and adults, plus miscellaneous articles, will be for sale.

Sale will be located at Southeast corner of Seaside Road and Va. Beach Blvd. Proceeds will be used for community welfare.

QUESTION: Shall section one hundred sixty-nine of the Constitution of Virginia be amended so as to permit the governing bodies of counties, cities and towns, with the consent of the General Assembly to exempt or partially exempt household goods and personal effects from taxation?

workers of the Princess Anne-Virginia Beach Chest complained of solvency by the Norfolk Chest of residents of Princess Anne County.

General Chairman W. Alfred Etheridge has urged workers to contact all of the firms and business places this week so that the drive can be completed on time which is November 1.

Etheridge pointed out this week in a joint statement with Chest President Albin R. Malches that the statement made at last week's meeting was not intended to cast any reflection on any Chest or any individual connected with a Community Chest, but to point out the problem that is being faced by workers in the Princess Anne-Virginia Beach Community Chest.

Agencies depending on the local Chest for support include the American Cancer Society, American Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Florence Crittenton Home, King's Daughters, Youth's Activities, American Hearing Society, United Fund, and the American Social Hygiene Association.

Chest officials announced that anyone desiring to contribute and have not been solicited may do so by sending a check addressed to the Community Chest, 100 Hall, Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Virginia Beach Bowl Parade

Friday afternoon at 4:30 P.M. is the time set for the Beach Bowl Parade. The same night in the Virginia Beach Memorial Stadium, York High School will clash with the mighty "Seasawks" from Virginia Beach High. Kick off time for the Beach Bowl Game is at eight o'clock in the evening.

Miss Francis McLean was chosen by the football team to reign as Beach Bowl Queen. Her lovely attendants were selected by their classes and they are:

Miss McLean will be crowned in the half-time ceremonies. Floats from the parade will be awarded prizes at this time.

The Beach Bowl is sponsored by the Student Cooperative Association of Virginia Beach High School.

Live Better—Electrically

American families this year, more than ever before, are aware that they can live better electrically. Young married couples established families—even retired people planning their long-sought cottage—realize the benefits of comfort and convenience provided by electricity. And these benefits are brought right into every room of their homes.

With this public interest in mind, today's electrical appliance manufacturers spend no little effort designing their products to give every family in the country an important end product—leisure time and the comfort to enjoy it. That's what these "electrical servants" do in every room of the house.

A brief visit through an all-electric home illustrates this happy fact.

Yesterday's kitchen, for instance, was a place for mother to work. Today it is a "center" of living.

wife the ultimate in convenience as she prepares for her busy family.

New Worlds Open

TV, radio and hi-fi-phonographs bring new worlds of entertainment into the living room. But that's only part of the fun. For they can be enjoyed more in a cool, air conditioned setting. On occasion, home movies are displayed for friends, or the tape recorder is plugged in to preserve important events of family life.

In the bedrooms, electricity heats the blanket and adds that little luxury of reading in bed.

Adjacent is the bathroom, perhaps, where adequate lighting, comfortable temperatures and a plentiful supply of hot water give electricity's worth.

Electricity relieves Mother's concern in the nursery room in many ways. The bottle warmer, bottle sterilizer, hot plate for warming up milk, are all within easy reach at feeding time. A room-to-room "intercom" near the baby tells mother all is well when she's in another part of the house.

Meanwhile, throughout the home, the all-electric eating or cooling system operates smoothly to keep the family comfortable and healthy. There are no messy smells with electric, climate-control heating units.

It's no wonder people are thinking electricity. They want the leisure time it brings, they enjoy the comfort it affords, and they like its low price.

Chest Problems Can Be Resolved

The past week brought forth statements from the Princess Anne - Virginia Beach Community Chest and Norfolk Community Chest concerning solicitations and contributions from residents and business firms of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach to the Norfolk Community Chest. The statements were prompted by an expression of workers at the first report meeting of the Princess Anne-Virginia Beach Chest last week at the Princess Anne High School.

There was almost complete agreement among the workers that indicated the individual homes, in some areas, in the county were contributing little or nothing to the local Community Chest because they had

Robeson Should Be Re-Elected

Recently at a political meeting held in the Princess Anne High School Lieutenant Governor A. E. S. Stephens said, in effect, that he could not see how a Southerner could vote any way but Democratic in the forthcoming national elections.

Governor Stephens, after making the statement, backed it up adequately with the facts. Since that time there have been many facts presented that would indicate that Governor Stephens' statement was a sound one. He stated that the South should stick with the Democratic Party for the other national party was completely foreign to the South's way of life.

In our own District the incumbent Democratic Congressman Edward J. Robeson is being opposed by a candidate representing the Republican Party. We think Congressman Robeson should, and will be returned to the Congress from this District, not so much on the grounds that the South should vote Democratic, but because Congressman Robeson has made an outstanding record in Congress. Recently many expressions of praise have come from those who serve in the Congress with Representative Robeson. Here are some of those expressions:

Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House.
"Any district is fortunate to have a man of Ed Robeson's type and character in the Congress of the United States."

Representative Bonner, North Carolina. "He gives his full time to the lower Chesapeake area and has shown diligence to his duties never surpassed during the sixteen years I have been a Member of the House of Representatives."

Tom Murray, Tennessee, Chairman Post Office and Civil Service Committee. "Our committee record in the 84th Congress is the finest in its history. If I were to select one member who was a key member in achieving this record it would be Ed Robeson."

John W. McCormack, House Majority Leader. "I can assure the voters of the First Congressional District of Virginia that the contributions of Congressman Robeson, as a member of the Congress, have been outstanding. I respectfully urge his re-election."

The Sun-News joins in urging the re-election of Congressman Robeson. His record merits the support of the voters of the First District.

PENNY PINCHER

Getting ahead financially is not a matter of "pinching pennies." Quite to the contrary! Actually you can spend money more happily (because free from worries and misgivings) once you have embarked on a program of systematic saving.

First step is to establish the amount that you reasonably can and most certainly will save each payday. Then see to it that these dollars go promptly into your savings account every week . . . before they have a chance to go elsewhere. You'll have more fun spending what's left . . . when you do your savings FIRST!

P-T-A Meeting

Next Monday, November 6th marks the 3rd regular P-T-A meeting of this school term. While parents of students in the school are urged to attend, those parents of preschool children, together with residents of the community who are interested in the work of the P-T-A are cordially invited.

The calendar of each parent should have the first Monday of each month circled in RED. Later, if you should forget what the red circle stands for, you would receive any of four different reminders, i.e., a telephone call from a Room Representative, a public service announcement on Radio Station WBOF, an item in this newspaper column, and a note from the school by way of your own personal "Wild Bill Hickok" or "Annie Oakley."

The meetings open with a benediction by Dr. W. George Bond, Chairman of Spiritual Education for the P-T-A and pastor of the First Baptist Church. This follows the reading of the minutes of previous meetings and the "Treasurer's" report. The reports from the various committee chairmen is then made. These reports often contain information which directly affects the student body, the parents or the teachers. The order of NEW business then proceeds. The closing of the regular November meeting will signal the opening of a program, the theme of which is "SAFETY." The presentation will be made by Police Sergeant C. R. Bailey with the assistance of the Programming Committee.

The important thing is to be in the school auditorium by 8:00 PM. Monday night. There are plenty of seats. Get there a little early and get a good parking place.

Special Recognition

Mrs. Ernestine Scruggs and her class of fifteen are saluted this week. Those who know Mrs. Scruggs appreciate her indefatigable patience with her pupils. She enjoys the fullest cooperation within the class and the issue of education is the only goal. The children, four girls and eleven boys, are those who must have extra help in their curricular activities. There is no question but that Mrs. Scruggs' friendly manner is helping these students immensely.

The class concentrates on reading, writing, arithmetic and language during the morning and covers art and music in the afternoon. Professional skills such as carpentry and sewing are planned for the future.

A graduate of Longwood State College at Farmville, Mrs. Scruggs has more than 20 years teaching experience. She joined the faculty shortly after the regular term began. Two years experience in private school have helped her prepare for her present assignment. She also works in close liaison with state and area supervisors for the best application of teaching methods.

The appreciation of Mrs. Scruggs' devotion to this type of work is strongly felt throughout the community.

Ways and Means

Beach High School Holds First Educational Forum Meeting

The first meeting of the Virginia Beach High School Educational Forum met in the school auditorium Monday evening October 15th. There were approximately 200 in attendance. A concert by the High School Band preceded the opening of the meeting at 8:00 P.M.

The invocation was given by Susan Grigg, President of the Tri-Hi-Y Club. Pat Standing Student Body President welcomed the group and invited the parents to take an active part in the school programs by attending the Forum meetings at 8:30 P.M. on the third Monday of each month.

Mr. James A. Johnson, Principal of the school introduced each teacher in turn and explained his or her class schedule and extra-curricular duties. Mr. Johnson brought out the fact that he had just received word that the Virginia Beach High School has been accredited by the State Board of Education for the year 1956-57. He also stated that the school had received very favorable commendation from a visiting Committee of Educators who evaluated the local school in the spring. The following is an excerpt from that Committee report: "The Committee commends the school on its scope of offerings. The program of studies includes 41½ units: Academic, 23; Fine Arts, 3½; Practical Arts, 13; and Health and Physical Education, 2. Basic to the Carnegie unit offerings is an eight-grade program which includes for all pupils a full year of English, mathematics, science, social studies, and health and physical education; nine weeks each of art, music, and business; and for girls and boys nine weeks of homemaking and nine weeks of industrial arts respectively. The breath of offering makes it possible for this school to go far in meeting the common and individual needs of the youth within the area served. Organized sequences of courses carry through several grades to prepare young people for successful entrance to the liberal arts and technical institution of higher learning, for reasonably satisfactory entrance to the business field, and for careers in homemaking. Exploratory and try-out experiences provided in industrial arts help to develop a readiness for more specialized training in industrial vocational education."

The program of studies reflects a strong emphasis upon the college preparatory function of the school. Approximately 41 per cent of the enrollment of grades 9-12 are in one or more of the foreign languages; 53 per cent, in mathematics designed for college entrance; 35 per cent of the pupils enrolled in the 11th and 12th grades are studying either chemistry or physics.

For the past two years, 70.91 per cent of the graduates of this school have entered college. Of these, 75.63 per cent continue to be enrolled. Only 11.53 per cent withdrew because of failure.

It is the opinion of the committee that the hopes and aspirations of the parents of this community for their children justify continued emphasis upon college preparation. The committee believes, however, that the requirements of those who may not be planning for college need to be constantly appraised."

Mr. Johnson read the following summary of the Philosophy of the school as approved by the faculty:

"The school should be a place where each individual child is provided with the opportunity to develop physically, mentally, socially, and morally to the limit of his or her capacity.

The Administration and teachers should strive for that leadership and guidance that will allow our children to evolve into useful contented members of the society in which divine providence wills they shall live.

The school board should strive to provide adequate housing and playground facilities that are safe, healthy, and wholesome for the child. The Board should provide a school schedule that will leave the teachers free from economic pressure. The teacher is the most important factor in the school and the principal's prime responsibility is the selection of good teachers and the careful and constant democratic supervision necessary to provide good instruction. A good teacher must have an honest love and concern for children, and be blessed with a healthy mind and body, that provides for a maximum amount of strength and pagram had some of his students sing several songs and as the meeting closed the group was invited into the school library where refreshments were served.

Good Shepherd Special Mission

Adlai's Humor In Campaigning

By Louis Graves in The Chapel Hill Weekly.

I am strongly in favor of humor in the campaign and do not agree with the people who criticize Adlai Stevenson for making jokes. Of course his humor, like anybody else's, should be judged by its quality. The first time I heard him speak I thought his humor was of a big order, and my continued acquaintance with him through hearing and reading what he says has strengthened me in this opinion.

In view of the fact that Abraham Lincoln is revered by Republicans as the greatest man in the history of their party, and in their model for all aspirants to office, and in view of the further fact that he is celebrated for his sense of humor, and for his giving frequent expression to it by the making of jokes, and by the telling of funny stories, it is positively idiotic for Republican spokesmen to make it a reproach to Stevenson, as many of them have done, that he introduces humor into his speeches.

The people of the United States ought to be thankful to him for doing so, and I have no doubt a great many of them are. Do these make up a large element of the population? And is their gratification enough to be of an important factor in causing them to vote for him? Probably the right answer to both these questions is no; even if it yes, these people are too widely scattered over the country to do Stevenson any good. If they could be bunched in one state, or in two or three states, where they are most needed, maybe there might be enough of them to turn the balance in his favor.

In these days I am reading in the newspapers a lot of speeches, statements, and letters-to-the-editor about the campaign. Humorous passages are always pleasing to me — if, of course, they are of what I consider good quality. It is my observation that the Democrats do better than the Republican politicians who possess humor and delight the listeners with it in the home and the tavern and the club and the committee room. But they are careful to keep it under wraps because they think the mass of the people regard it as unbecoming to men in public life. But maybe they are wrong about that. Consider Lincoln. There is no evidence that the mass of the people disapproved of his humor. The only disapproval of Lincoln's jokes which history tells us about were the rich and high-placed, the solemn asses, the men whom nowadays we call stuffed shirts. The relatively small number of these people make their votes of less value than the votes of the mass.

Here is a remark that, for cam-

James Darden Attends Noted Munich Event

Army Specialist Third Class James R. Darden, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Darden, London Bridge, Va., recently attended the world-famous Bavarian "Oktoberfest" in Munich.

The annual event, which lasts for three weeks, originated 146 years ago as a wedding feast of a Bavarian crown prince.

Specialist Darden is a gunner in Company H of the 11th Airborne Division's 503d Infantry Regiment. He entered the Army in August 1954, was last stationed at Fort Jackson, S.C., and arrived in Europe in January 1956.

Junior League Thrift Shop

By Kay Douglass Sewell
At Virginia Beach year-round residents settle down solidly more and more to their own beach way of life, more and more town features come to the beach.

Newest imports — the Junior League Thrift Shop. Long standing done a roaring trade at its old stand at 251 Bute Street, it's sending some of its choicer merchandise to Virginia Beach on Saturday, Nov. 3, to be on sale from 10 a.m. at Dan's Drive-In on the corner of Seaflock road and Virginia Beach boulevard.

All merchandise is "bargain" merchandise — good used clothes for women, men, and particularly children, as well as household bric-a-brac, which includes playpens and highchairs as well as the familiar ornaments.

The Long Haul

The Virginia Beach members of the Junior League of Norfolk will transport this haul personally from town to the one-day sales location, lent to them through the courtesy of Dan Hux.

Exactly what would be on sale wasn't known to them on Wednesday.

day, Oct. 24, but a committee of landladies were busy working on posters at Mrs. Ward Cole's house on 52nd street, getting ready for what they hoped will be a "terrific event for everybody."

All proceeds will be used for community projects. This use will be determined to some extent by the success of the sale, but, according to Mrs. C. Cabell Hancock Jr., chairman, will doubtless follow the lines of the Virginia Beach Junior League members in the past.

For example, she said, they have already supported the Red Cross Blood Bank, the Virginia Beach Children's Theater, and provided transportation for children with cerebral palsy from home to clinic each week, and back again.

Those who come to the sale to buy can expect to find their money's worth. All used clothes on sale must be, as much as possible, "like new" — clean, not too much worn, and with every hook, button, and snap in place.

There will be dresses, suits, hats, coats for the women, as well as jewelry (no emeralds, however).

The person who told us your food was the best on the Beach knew exactly what they were talking about," so said Esther Jolly, of Salem, Virginia, after a recent meal at the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Ave in the Jefferson Hotel building.

FORD TRUCKS COST LESS

...less to own . . . less to run . . . last longer, too!

Before you buy your next truck, look at both sides of Ford's story of value: what you get and what it costs. You'll like what you see.

Look at the costs. Ford's first cost is low. Resale value is high. Ford's Short Stroke engines are designed for less friction, less wear, lower running costs. Maintenance costs are lower, too, because Ford trucks are built stronger for rugged long life. And a 10-million truck study proves Ford trucks last longer.

Look at what you get and you'll see you get more for your money in a Ford. For example, only Ford gives you modern Short Stroke power in every truck, V-8 or Six. Sodium-cooled exhaust valves in Heavy Duty engines run up to 225° cooler, last longer. More comfort with a Driverized Cab. More safety with Ford's exclusive Lifeguard features.

Look carefully . . . consider everything. You'll agree Ford trucks cost less, give you more. If you want a great deal—a great deal more for your money—see your Ford Dealer.

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILLE CLARK

announced at the release I received from Patricia Dohrenwend of J. Walter Thompson Company, New York. It is about the food & drink specialties served at campaign parties years ago. The news releases referred to the New York Historical Society for an old election party of the press preview (Sept. 20th) of the society's annual meeting. The fun and excitement of an election in early America, and the prospect of plentiful refreshments helped to bring many voters to the polls. "Treats" was traditional in Colonial days, particularly in the South, and candidates were expected to supply food and drink for all. In 1758 when George Washington was running for a seat in the House of Burgesses, his agent distributed rum punch, beer, wine, cider and cakes. But when the victorious candidate arranged for payment of the bill, he wrote: "I hope that no Expenses were taken to any that voted against me but all were alike treated and all had enough; it is what I much desired."

ing on a large scale began to take shape in the early 18th century. parades, barbecues, pole raisings and dinners became indispensable features of every campaign. One observer in 1811 described the pioneering as a certain suavity of manners employed by candidates for popular favor: "It consists in a certain peculiar shade of the hand called by our farmers the electioneering shade, (and) in purchasing brandy and drinking with the people..." Lemuel Sawyer, successful Congressional candidate from North Carolina in 1825 admitted that he had won the election with the aid of "white ruin, melons and gingerbread."

As party organization came to play a large part in political campaigns, public barbecues grew in popularity as a means of getting votes. In 1840 these political meetings were at their height in the log cabin and hard cider campaign of William Henry Harrison at Albany the Whigs raised a log cabin and feasted on corn bread, cheese and hard cider; at Columbus, Ohio, there was ginger cake, hoe cake and bacon to accompany the cider. The Harringtons of Wheeling, Virginia, were reputed to have entertained 30,000 visitors at their rally. Wheelingites provided a public table with 360 hams, 36 sheep, 36 calves, 1,500 pounds of beef, 8,000 pounds of bread, over 1,000 pounds of cheese and 4,500 pies!

An interesting description of a Democratic barbecue in Walnut Lick, Kentucky in 1844 is found in "Rafting on the Alleghany and Ohio," the diary of Henry Baker: "From Mr. O'Hara we had the whole history of Whiggery and Democracy... We then adjourned to dinner which is the first of the kind I ever was at. Here five or six ditchers dug two and a half feet deep, and about 4 wide, in which had been built fires, which when burned down to coals they had put over their quarters of veal and mutton upon spits of wood. Fork was also over the fire in the same way. Further on was a table about two hundred feet long of rough boards, strewed from end to end with the roasted meat and bread..."

In the North election cakes and clambakes proved popular with voters in old time political contests. As one newspaper wrote before Whig candidate Henry Clay arrived for a visit in 1844: "Money is scarce up this way, but if full cribs, fat smokehouses and flowing cellars will aid, just tell the feeding committee to serve up such a bill of fare as they want."

ELECTION DAY CAKES

Though torchlight parades may now be relegated to elections past, one phase of those old-fashioned political contests is enjoying a bipartisan revival. That's the election day cake enjoyed by Democrats and Whigs alike when it was first introduced in the late 1700's and now being eaten by both Democrats and Republicans as the campaigns gain momentum. It is, of course, almost impossible to pick out the original Election Day Cakes as one contemporary cook book lists 16 as many as eleven different recipes. The one salient feature common to all seems to have been a cake made with yeast having a consistency between fruit cake and nut bread. One recipe found in the Yankee Cook-book with the soubriquet Hartford Election Day Cake is claimed by the author to be the "real one" and is printed here.

ORIGINAL HARTFORD ELECTION DAY CAKE

30 qt. flour
10 lb. butter
14 lb. sugar
12 lb. raisins
3 doz. eggs
1 pt. wine
1 qt. brandy
4 oz. cinnamon
4 oz. fine coriander seed
3 oz. ground allspice

Wet flour with milk to consistency of bread overnight adding 1 qt. yeast. Next morning beat butter and sugar together for ½ hour when it has rose. Work in every other ingredient except the plumbe (the liquor) which is worked in when going into the oven.

Another early recipe for Election Day Cake published by Mrs. E. A. Howland in 1847 shows how great the variations in recipes were.

Mrs. E. A. Howland published in 1847 as follows:

4 pounds of flour

4 of a pound of butter

1 egg

Half a pint of good yeast

wet it with milk, so soft as can be moulded on a board. Let it rise overnight in winter; in warm weather, however, is usually enough for it to rise. Take it about ¾ of an hour.

ELECTION DAY CAKES THEN AND NOW

One hundred years ago Election Day Cakes were sold on Election Day all over New England. If you were a Democrat cheering the victory of James G. Buchanan, you ate this fruited yeast-raised cake with elation; if you were a Republican mourning the defeat of John C. Fremont you choked down your tears with Election Day Cake. Win or lose or draw, if you were a New Englander in the mid-1850's, you shared Election Day Cakes with relatives, neighbors and other visitors.

After some experimentation with the early Connecticut recipe from which this cake originally baked, this modern recipe has been evolved, which produces an excellent product each time without changing the character of the original cake.

ELECTION CAKE

1 ½ cups warm, not hot, water lukewarm for compressed yeast

3 teaspoons sugar
2 packages of cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
4 ½ cups sifted enriched flour
4 pounds of flour
4 of a pound of butter
1 egg
Half a pint of good yeast
wet it with milk, so soft as can be moulded on a board. Let it rise overnight in winter; in warm weather, however, is usually enough for it to rise. Take it about ¾ of an hour.

Turn into a greased, lightly floured 10-inch tube pan or into 2 well-greased loaf pans (9x5x3-inches) or 2 well-greased 1 ½ quart casseroles. Cover with cloth. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours. Bake at 350° F. (moderate oven) until dissolved. Add 1 ½ cups of the flour and beat well. Cover pans 5 minutes.

VIRGINIA LEITH
Brunette beauty seen in "Toward the Unknown."

Virginia Leith Romantically Teamed With William Holden

The days of the rough and ready screen lovers are numbered. The era of the gentle, old-fashioned lover is upon us in the opinion of Virginia Leith, a beautiful newcomer to the Hollywood leading lady ranks.

Miss Leith cited William Holden, who won the Photoplay Gold Medal Award as the most popular actor of 1956, to prove her point. She's often watched his prowess as a lover from a seat in a movie theatre. Currently in "Toward the Unknown," Holden's Tolosa production for Warner Bros. opening at the Theatre, she is on the receiving end of the Holden kisses and caresses and can thus speak with considerable authority.

"William Holden has the amazing ability to give each woman in the audience the feeling that he loves and needs her. In recent years most screen heroes seem to have adopted the 'grab 'em and kiss 'em' technique.

"Bill gives the impression he really appreciates women and believes the way to win their affection is to treat them gently. His love making is passionate, but passion with tenderness.

"I believe that American women are tired of the rough, caveman approach. They now want the polished, suave man who kisses the woman gently, though no less ardently," she declared.

Vital statistics on Miss Leith reveal that she is a 5' 6" blonde from Cleveland, Ohio. She first came to public attention by her appearance in a movie, "Pearl and Desire," which resulted in a four page layout in Life magazine and then a contract at 20th Century-Fox Studios. She has made four other pictures including "Violent Saturday" and "On the Threshold of Space." Her romantic role opposite Holden in "Toward the Unknown," which Mervyn LeRoy directed and produced and Lloyd Nolan also stars in, is her most important role to date. And a note for eligible bachelors.

If you belong to the gentle school of love making and own a volume of Keats or Shelley, Miss Leith is unmarried and likes to read poetry in the evenings.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Buying a home is about the biggest investment most people ever make. It is to the veteran home buyer to know what he is doing before he puts his name on the dotted line. When a veteran is buying or building a home with the help of a VA loan he should know that the Veterans Administration CAN do some things and CAN'T do others. When a veteran comes to an agreement with a lender of a VA loan, the VA CAN guarantee repayment of part of the loan. The VA CAN have the house appraised, to make sure the price is not excessive in today's market. The VA CAN have the expected to make sure it meets the specifications.

On the other hand VA CANNOT guarantee that the veteran's new home will be one hundred percent free of all hidden defects. The VA CANNOT act as the veteran's architect. The VA CANNOT guarantee that veteran will be satisfied with his purchase after his and his family move in.

Because the government makes it easier for the veteran to finance the purchase of his home, and because the government throws certain safeguards around the transaction does not mean that the veteran should relax his own vigilance to see that he gets what he signs the contract for.

Plans are completed for the first nation-wide evaluation of the new tranquilizing drugs for mentally ill patients in 37 Veterans Administration hospitals.

Dr. William S. Middleton, Chief Medical Director, who released the announcement, said: "VA, with its vast clinical material and its research potential, is in a unique position to carry out work on the tranquilizing drugs to benefit veterans and the nation."

The project will be conducted under the direction of VAT Psychiatry and Neurology Service, of which Dr. Jessie F. Casey is the director. Dr. Casey said the study is designed to answer questions of the drug's effectiveness and toxicity, what dosage is desirable and how long it should be continued. The project will be directed by an executive committee of doctors.

BAYSIDE JUNIOR CHAMBER

The Bayside Jay-C's will hold their next meeting Thursday night, November 1st at 7:30 P.M. at the Shelton Park School.

John E. Abalora, Jr., is the president.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE

Once again this year the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach will have charge of the Community Chest Drive. Mrs. E. J. Webbon Weitman, Chairman of the Woman's Club and chief of the committee and chief of VAT Psychiatry Division, had two trains quelling drugs now in clinical use will be used in the first study, which will involve about 1,000 patients with acute and chronic schizophrenia; popularly called "split personality."

Plans for the study were begun a year ago. It now will be carried forward under rigidly controlled conditions, with each hospital following the same procedure so that results of the study may be evaluated accurately. Dr. Ginsberg said.

Dr. Ivan P. Bennett, executive secretary of the committee and chief of Psychiatry Research, said during the short time the trains quelling drugs have been available, much research on their use has been done, but the work has been on small scale and research procedures have been too variable to give doctors the answers they want.

Dr. Bennett said the participating hospitals have agreed on carefully designed requirements for selection of patients, supply of the drug, dosage, rating of patients, progress, and collection of data. All other forms of treatment of benefit to patients will be continued during the study, he added.

As a newspaperman, I hate to admit it—but facts are facts.

The Windys of news aren't only quicker news s—than our paper . . . they've even got better circulation.

From where I sit, some of us would rather talk than eat, while others are close-mouthed . . . just as some of us like coffee and others prefer a glass of beer.

There's a lot to be said for both attitudes. But if you go in for gab—don't talk against someone just because you don't happen to agree with him on some question of personal choice. Use your own "good censorship."

De Soto Announces New, Lower
Priced Firesweep Series for '57

Detroit, Oct. 26—De Soto today introduced an all-new, lower-priced Firesweep, a third model that makes the company's 15-car line the largest ever offered in the division's 28-year history.

The new model, which dealers display Oct. 26, is described by L. Irving Woolson, De Soto president, as "the greatest value ever offered in the medium price field."

The new car features many automotive advances, including a revolutionary new suspension system, a newly designed V-8 engine, a triple-range push-button transmission, and all-weather new air conditioning.

According to Mr. Woolson, the Firesweep, with its sister cars, the Fireflite and Firedome, now gives De Soto a price coverage in 91% of today's car market, excepting the very low-priced field.

A highlight feature of the new De Soto Firesweep is a 123-inch wheelbase incorporating a number of revolutionary suspension advances. This results in the smoothest, most comfortable ride possible and is termed Torsion-Aire Ride.

Mechanical torsion bars replace conventional front springs, save space and reduce weight by 30 percent. Safety-Sphere joints reduce steering gear friction, greatly reducing steering effort. An anti-brake dip device, which reduces forward pitch by 45 percent, is also standard.

Rear-end stability is increased by mounting rear springs outboard of the frame. De Soto's redesigned Girfford shock absorbers give heightened performance on any road surface.

All suspension components are isolated from the heavily reinforced frame by rubber bushings. This greatly reduces road shock, provides quieter operation and minimizes lubrication points from 23 to only eight.

Also contributing to the Firesweep's smoother ride and easier handling are new 14-inch tires with a wider tread for greater traction and better cornering, and requiring only 22 lbs. air pressure. Together with the new "step-down" chassis, they help account for the chassis' unusually low silhouette, measuring barely four feet seven and one-half inches from road to roof.

The completely new De Soto Firesweep engine is a V-8 powerplant rated at a highly-competitive 245 hp. with a 356 cubic inch displacement, 8.5 to 1 compression ratio and a new "high-intensity" camshaft. Its polyspheric combustion chambers give higher thermal efficiency and above economical operation with "regular" gasoline.

The Firesweep after four transmissions, including De Soto's new Torque-Flite, which combines a high-performance torque converter with a 3-speed planetary gear box. It retains the push-button type control which was well favor in '56, but adds a fifth button to control a new third forward speed that affords greater acceleration at low-speeds, increased flexibility in city traffic and better fuel economy. A standard transmission, standard transmission with overdrive, and Power-Flite are also offered.

A near-full range of optional equipment is offered with Firesweep, including De Soto's new Four-Season air conditioning. A compact unit located entirely under the engine hood, it offers ideal inside "climate" regardless of outside weather.

It is easily operated by a simple set of dash-mounted finger-tip controls and the one system both heats in winter and cools in summer. It dehumidifies incoming air and filters pollen, road dust and exhaust fumes. A unique outlet system provides constant air circulation.

The new cars are available in 24 different color combinations, 14 solids and 50 two-tones.

Sturdy and attractive interior upholstery materials, created especially for the Firesweep, include embossed vinyl and sarcophagous-metallic materials in a wide variety of colors.

Other available safety, comfort and beauty features are improved full-time power steering, power brakes, electric window lifts, a six-way power-operated front seat, and two types of heaters, one an instantaneous, gasoline-fired type.

A new push-button "transistorized" radio is also offered. The use of a transistor cuts power requirements in half, prolonging battery life, and eliminating the source of 90 percent of all radio failures.

Five De Soto Firesweep models are offered: a four-door sedan, two and four - door Sportsman hardtops, the Shopper two-seat station wagon and the Explorer, a three-seat wagon based on Chrysler Corporation's "Plainman" dream car. In the latter, the third rear seat faces backward, "observation car" fashion. Third-seat passengers gain entry through a unique tailgate which doubles as an entry step.

The new cars are available in 24 different color combinations, 14 solids and 50 two-tones.

"Christmas-By-The-Sea" Again Theme for Yuletide Festivities

Here in Virginia Beach extensive city-wide plans for the coming Christmas Season are reported well under way. The City Government is combining its efforts with those of the Retail Merchants Association and The Chamber of Commerce to roll out the holiday carpet with unprecedented splendor.

After a series of preparatory meetings, General Promotion Chairman, Howard Parks, announced Friday that committees have been appointed and are functioning under the supervision of Sam Riles, in charge of advertising; Bob Cherry, City Hall liaison; and John Glover, Treasurer. Special program features will be handled by Jimmie Kitchin, solicited by Quentin Owen, solicited by Kitty Gordon.

A preview of the city's plans reveals that the downtown shopping area will present a real "Christmas-By-The-Sea" picture, with a galaxy of thousands of lights twinkling merrily along Atlantic Avenue, from 17th to 31st Street, on 17th Street from Atlantic Avenue to Cypress Avenue, and down 31st Street to Baltic Avenue. The traditional community tree will tower bigger and more beautiful than ever over the festive scene. Mr. Clark, of course, will make his spectacular entrance to Virginia Beach via a rollicking parade early in December. From then to Christmas Eve he will reign supreme from this throne in the Community House, 18th Street at Arctic Avenue.

Arrangements are being made to allow shoppers to leave their children at Santa Land, where qualified supervisors will be in attendance and baby-sitting provided. There'll be fun galore for the youngsters, too, with lollipops, balloons, kiddie slides, a snack bar, and the chance to have their pictures taken with Old Santa, himself.

Local authorities predict that the City's abundance of free parking space will attract hundreds to Virginia Beach to enjoy Tidewater's most easily accessible and convenient shopping center where the Christmas spirit will abound in the gift-laden shops and along the brightly decorated streets.

"We Have This Treasure" Is Theme of Dr. Rudolph Schulz Missioner

The Reverend Dr. R. G. Schulz, D. D. will conduct the United Lutheran Evangelism Mission services next week at the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd on 18th and Atlantic Ave. The property formerly belonged to Galilee Episcopal Church.

On Sunday morning at 11:00 A. M., Dr. Schulz will have as his subject, "His Treasure is Our Treasure." For the evening services at 8:00 P. M., Dr. Schulz has chosen the following topics: Sunday, "Faith That Lett God Act"; Monday, "The Irresistible Act"; Tuesday, "The Finality of Christ"; Wednesday, "Help From the Sanctuary"; Thursday, "How Can I Know I Am Saved."

In addition to the special music each night, there will be question-answer period at which time anyone is invited to submit questions to Dr. Schulz on any aspect of the Christian faith.

Rev. John D. Keister, the local Lutheran Pastor, will assist in the services.

The program at Virginia Beach is being carried out in conjunction with the area-wide Evangelism Mission conducted by the Lutheran Church in Tidewater.

Chief Reeves Gives Warning

Share the road with pedestrians. It's their street too! This warning was given to drivers today by Chief of Police Reeves E. Johnson speaking on behalf of the current pedestrian protection program of the Virginia Beach Police Department and the Governor's Highway Safety Committee.

The Chief stressed the necessity for more give and take on the part of drivers.

"Our high pedestrian fatality rate is an indictment of the selfish attitude displayed by many drivers," Chief Johnson said. "I know that pedestrians often invite disaster by their own carelessness, but this does not excuse drivers from blame," he said the fact that the average car weight around 3,000 pounds while the average man weighs 160 pounds or so should convince any driver that he should bend over backwards to protect the pedestrian.

Contesting the right of way with pedestrians is hardly fair play, he said.

The Chief listed the following rules as musts for drivers who want to discharge their responsibilities to pedestrians in traffic.

1. Stop at crosswalks for pedestrians.

2. When stopped at a crosswalk, stay behind the line until the signal changes.

3. Don't jump the gun when the signal changes. Give walkers a break.

4. Be sure the crosswalk is clear before making a turn.

5. Be especially alert when approaching blind intersections or lines of parked cars.

6. Watch out for children and elderly people.

"We Have This Treasure" will be the theme of Dr. Rudolph Schulz, former President of Carthage College, as he brings the messages for the Lutheran Evangelism Mission at Virginia Beach November 11 to 15.

Services will be held nightly in the recently-acquired property of the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd on 18th and Atlantic Ave. The property formerly belonged to Galilee Episcopal Church.

On Sunday morning at 11:00 A. M., Dr. Schulz will have as his subject, "His Treasure is Our Treasure." For the evening services at 8:00 P. C&P's Cash On Phone Problems

William Cash, manager of the Norfolk exchange of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, spoke at the Norfolk Advertising Club in the Commodore Maury Hotel yesterday and gave his firm's position on the move of a group from Virginia Beach and Princess Anne to away with toll calls between these areas and the Norfolk and Portsmouth telephone systems.

Eliminating toll calls and speaking in comparison to Norfolk rates, said Mr. Cash, "60% of our Virginia Beach customers would have to pay increased rates, and only 38% would get a decrease 2% of the phone company's Virginia Beach customers would pay the same rates." Mr. Cash continued, "These results confirm the fact that we are providing telephone service that meets the needs of the majority at the lowest possible scale of rates. The toll rates are the fairest means of letting those who want telephone contact with others outside of the Virginia Beach exchange pay for their special needs. This is one of the basic considerations of rate-making. We are definitely not interested in promoting or agreeing to rates for our customers which would mean that a minority group would benefit from higher rates paid by a majority group."

Mr. Cash revealed that dial conversion of Virginia Beach is set for 1958 and plans might well delay this conversion for an indefinite period. He feels.

Mr. Cash concluded, "Constant studies are made on exchange boundaries in Tidewater areas and as population growth is experienced, the boundaries are moved to include such exchanges. The time for eliminating the boundary between Norfolk and Virginia Beach has not arrived, in our opinion, but when it does the customers will be given the benefit of such a move. In the meanwhile, those who have need for service outside of the area must pay for such service through toll or mileage rates. This is the fairest means for all involved."

Mr. Cash was introduced by program chairman Howard Stanley. Mrs. Kay Baenight, Ad Club President, presented Jeff Richards, movie actor, who is in Norfolk to publicize his picture, "The Opposite Sex." Other guests of the Ad Club included executives from Wilder and Joe's Theatres and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in New York and Hollywood.

FORT STORY NEWS

FOX HUNT

A series of special hunts, coordinated with the Virginia State Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, are now in progress at Fort Story. Lieutenant Colonel E. A. P. McCarthy, Jr., president of the post's Rod and Gun Club said that the hunts will begin at 7 a.m. each Saturday until the fox and wild dog population on the reservation is brought under control.

Residents of the military post and nearby communities were warned to keep track of pets, particularly during the periods of the hunts — the first of which was held Saturday, November 3.

State experts have pointed out the danger of rabies because of the large wild animal population in the area of Fort Story and the unused Seashore State Park, and recommended precautionary measures. The Commission will provide hounds for the hunts.

The Fort Story Rod and Gun Club, an organization of military personnel interested in the conservation of natural resources and the enjoyment of outdoor activities such as hunting and fishing, has offered its cooperation to the Commission.

CONSTRUCTION

The recent opening of the Fort Story commissary marked the completion of one of a group of construction projects now underway at the post.

In a report prepared this week, authorities at the post said that a project for the installation of shower in dependent quarters on Thomas Nelson Circle was 5% complete. A water tank being constructed on the post is 25% completed.

The leadership, a replica of the cargo holds and handling equipment of an ocean vessel built on land to be utilized in troop training, is 75% completed. Transportation Corps soldiers trained on a similar aid at Fort Eustis, headquarters of the Transportation Training Command which Fort Story is a part put their practice to use in the operations supplying the vital radar bases and military installations in the Far North this summer.

BEST MESS

The 461 Amphibious Truck Company was "The Best Mess Plaque" for October. The award is based on constant inspection of mess facilities, food preparation and service.

Sergeant First Class Charlie Jackson is mess sergeant of the 461st, which is commanded by First Lieutenant N. B. Thompson, Second Lieutenant Robert P. Platt is mess officer.

The 461st, nicknamed "The Barracudas," is one of several amphibious truck training.

WHAT'S MY LINE?

The Army's job classification experts didn't have to ponder long before assigning two men to the Military Police detachment at Fort Story. They are Private First Class Milan H. Copp and Private Wilbert G. Kopp.

Seam Construction

Important in Clothing

When buying clothing, wives should remember that seam construction is just about as important as the fabric, point out textile and laundering experts at American Institute of Laundering. A.I.L. is the research and educational center for the professional laundry industry.

When checking seam construction, look for the following:

1. Beware of seams with raw edges.
2. Generally speaking, the stitching on seams should be small.
3. Check seams for puckering.
4. Sufficient seam allowance should have been made.

5. If seams are not bound, make sure that the end of the fabric has been pinked or overcast with sewing thread.

6. Apply a little tension on the seam. I distortion results, you can expect some seam slippage.

7. Check the finish of the seam.

8. Inspect the area where the needle has gone into the fabric.

9. Beware of seams that have been sewn with regular sewing on one side and loops on the other (chain stitch).

10. Seam thread should be checked for strength.

FOR ONLY A PENNY?"

One penny stands for the profit out of your dollar that Colonial and the food chain industry on the average receives for doing business for you! Nearly 99 cents of your sales dollar goes to buy merchandise and to pay salaries, rent, utilities, equipment, and taxes. The one penny left over builds new stores and warehouses and pays stockholders for their investment. How is this possible? Self-service, cash and carry, large volume, fast turnover — and constant vigilance over costs. By feeding millions for a penny, Colonial seeks to make its contribution to the strength of a greater America. Remember, Your Total Food Bill is Less When you Shop at CS!

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

The overwhelming victory of President Eisenhower in Tuesday general election was indicative of the confidence in the man shared by many millions of Americans. It indicated that many voters throughout the nation paid little attention to party label.

Now that the elections are over everyone can get back to normal. The world is at unrest and our leaders, with the election behind them, can now concentrate on trying to clear up the troubled international situation.

As for the election, itself, the Democratic nominee for president, Adlai E. Stevenson was once again a gracious loser and has pledged his efforts in the future to support of the national administration.

We had urged the re-election of Congressman Edward J. Robeson, Jr. from this district and the voters agreed with that selection by re-electing him in a close race with his Republican opponent.

The result of the presidential vote was not as surprising as the margin of victory scored by President Eisenhower. It reflected confidence of the people in this man and it should serve us well in foreign lands at this time.

As the Democratic nominee stated; "We are not Democrats and Republicans now, but Americans."

'Feeding Millions For A Penny'—Colonial Stores

Shoppers throughout the country who visit their Colonial Store on Thursday, November 8th will receive with their change a single penny in a small envelope bearing a printed message explaining that the penny approximates the chain's net profit on each dollar of sales, it was announced today by W. L. Ramsey, Vice President of Colonial Stores Incorporated.

Mr. Ramsey said, the "Penny Day" event, the first nationwide cooperative effort of its kind ever staged by the industry, is designed to dramatize the chain's theme "Feeding Millions for a Penny" by showing customers the narrow margin of profit on which food chains operate.

When a recent survey showed that housewives in twelve cities believed the food chain store's profit to be 10¢ on each dollar of sales—with some guesses ranging as high as 50¢—the chains decided on a plan to drive home their penny profit story by face-to-face contact with their customers over their own check-out counters, Mr. Ramsey explained.

He said the penny change envelope

Chief E. B. Bayne Heads Dystrophy Drive

Appointment of Chief E. B. Bayne of the Virginia Beach Fire Department as Virginia Beach chairman for the annual fund raising campaign of the Tidewater Area Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association was announced today by Col. James W. Roberts, general campaign chairman.

Bayne said the campaign would be conducted during the period Nov. 18-24. He said that a house-to-house canvass would be made by members of the Virginia Beach Volunteer Fire Department and its auxiliary.

In addition to the canvas, approximately 100 cannisters for donations will be placed in business establishments at Virginia Beach.

The canvas in Virginia Beach is part of the annual campaign being conducted throughout Tidewater Virginia.

Bayne pointed out that funds received from the campaign would be used to finance a program of service to muscular dystrophy patients and a national research program seeking to discover a muscular dystrophy cure or preventive.

A veteran in military service who has sold his home because of a transfer under military orders may have his GI home loan entitlement restored. In all cases where GI loan entitlement is to be restored, the Veterans Administration must be relieved from liability on the old guarantee, VA emphasized. This is generally done by paying off the old loan in full.

Both World War II and Korean Conflict period veterans are to restore their GI home loan entitlement until January 31, 1965, to use their rights under the new law.

Under the new liability law, a veteran may be released from liability to the Government under certain conditions if he sells his property and allows the purchaser to assume the GI loan rather than having it paid off in full. These conditions are:

1. The purchaser must obligate himself by contract to purchase the property and assume the veterans GI loan.

2. The loan must be current;

3. The purchaser must satisfy VA that he is a good credit risk.

Forces. His schedule is below:
At The Community House, 18th St. — Arctic Ave., Virginia Beach, from 11:00 AM to 3:00 PM on Thursday, November 8, 1966.

Moore visits this same location on every second and fourth Thursday, each month. On other days he can be reached in his office at 305-6 McKeithen Bldg., 203 E. City Hall Ave. in Norfolk. His telephone is Madison 2-9671.

Benefits

Thomas A. Moore, Area Director of the Virginia State Division of War Veterans' Claims with offices in the McKeithen Building in Norfolk has released the following quoted information relating to all survivors of servicemen or veterans who receive benefits now because of a death of a loved one, as a result of service in the Armed Forces.

"With the October checks, due to arrive this week, the Veterans Administration is mailing an important pamphlet to the widows, children and dependent parents of men who died as a result of service compensation concerning their rights under the Survivor Benefits Act, passed by the last Congress, and effective January 1, 1967, and it is designed to help survivors decide whether to elect the new benefits or continue to receive checks under the old law.

The point I wish to emphasize is that widows, dependent parents, and guardians of children should not make hurried decisions because there is plenty of time to elect the most favorable long range benefits. No payments under the new act will be made for any period prior to January 1, 1967, and any election received before July 3, 1967 will be made retroactive to the first day of January, 1967.

Careful and deliberate consideration is urged for the reason that once an election is made for payments under the Survivor Benefits Act, there is no return to payments under the old form of compensation.

This office wishes to stress the fact that the new law does not change pensions payable to the widows and children of veterans whose deaths were not due to service."

Army Transportation Training Command Commanding general Major General Rush B. Lincoln Jr., visited the post last week on a regular visit.

BALLOONS

"Clean Air Week" was marked at Fort Story with the release of ten helium filled balloons from the old Cape Henry Light House by the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce October 24.

Curtis T. Brooks Jr., assistant executive manager of the Norfolk chamber and Joseph F. Blanks, chairman of the subcommittee on air pollution released the specially marked balloons assisted by Specialist Third Class George Smith, 20, Lawrence, Mass., a soldier at Fort Story where the light house is located.

The 12-inch balloons, nicknamed "air-blown Janies", were released as part of a national program in which 48 selected cities are taking part. They carry self-addressed cards which are to be filled out and returned to the National Air Pollution Control Association by persons finding the balloons.

MORE RETURNERS

More groups of almost 150 Army Transportation Corps men are scheduled to return to Fort Story from the far North during the latter half of November.

The men, who departed last May, are the longest timers to engage in the northern supply missions. Their operations lasted nearly six months.

Notes From Your County Agent

BY E. R. "DICK COCKRELL, JR.

The Virginia Food Council is looking for the third winners of their annual Food Marketing awards, given each year to an individual and an organization that has made an outstanding contribution to agriculture and food marketing progress in Virginia.

There are no restrictions on who can win the awards — every segment of marketing interests is eligible — except tax supported agencies or employees.

Recipients of the individual awards in 1954 and 1955 were Mavis M. Gibbs, Richmond, Homemaking Editor of the Southern Planter Magazine, and J. Russell Parker, grain marketer of Providence Forge. Organizations honored with the award were the Virginia Chain Store Council and the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce.

A. G. Moffett, secretary of the Council, said that nominations should be on the official blanks available from his office at: 1200 E. Main Street, Richmond, and should describe briefly what the nominee has done to help any segment of the food marketing field.

Nomination deadline is November 15.

The awards will be made at the annual recognition dinner to be held later in November, said Moffett.

BRED EWE-SALE SET AT STAUNTON

The royalty of Virginia's sheep flocks will be on sale at the annual ewe lamb and bred ewe sale sponsored by the Virginia Purebred Sheep Breeders' Association in Staunton, November 7.

Sheepmen can always count on getting top quality at this sale of carefully selected animals.

A show, judged by G. W. Litton, head of the VPI animal husbandry department, is scheduled for 8 a.m. The sale, with H. H. Terry of Monterey as auctioneer, will begin at 1 p.m.

All yearling ewes are bred and thought to be with lamb. If any ewe sold fails to be settled, 20 percent of the original purchase price will be refunded if reported by May 1, 1957. Breeds include Dorsets, Hampshire, Southdowns, Suffolks, and Shropshire.

Consignors are: Howard M. Barker and H. W. Barker, both of Ashland; W. B. Crawford, Jr., and

J. C. Sites, both of Ft. Defiance; Lunford Farms, Rich Hill Farm, and H. H. Terry of Monterey; Garland F. Miller, Bridgewater; G. F. McClure, Jr., and W. W. Thomas & Son, Spotswood; R. H. OAK WILT IN VIRGINIA

Four successive years of serial surveys have shown that oak wilt, a destructive fungus disease, is distributed in the forests and woodlots of at least eight northwestern and two southwestern Virginia counties. By far the heaviest concentration is known to occur in the counties bordering West Virginia from Bath County northward through Frederick County.

The 1956 aerial survey indicated no particular increase in range of infection over past years, but was noteworthy because it failed to show additional new infections in the areas in Bath and Highland Counties where heavy infection was noted in 1953 and 1954. This failure to note new infections following repeated flights over suspect areas in these two counties gives hope for the eventual success of the control program which has been in progress in Virginia during the past two years. Fifty-six hours were spent in the air and portions of 18 counties were surveyed. Areas of known heavy infection were surveyed twice and in one case three times during July and August.

Thirty-one infection spots were located during 1956. Over half (60%) of these areas involved only a single white oak, indicating infection probably took place during an early spring of this year. The remaining 14 spots had been active from two to five years before their discovery.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Any Monday night, if you're walking down 17th Street past the VEPCO, you'll probably see a sight strange to the busy day activities in this same office!

This would be one of our local girl scout troops donned in aprons and determined expressions taking a course in food in order to earn their "Cook and Hospitality Badges." You'd probably see a scout with a smudge of flour on her nose, placing biscuits on a cookie sheet, another couple discussing which side of the plate to place the fork while setting the tables and still another, meticulously measuring milk into a cup. Besides learning the fundamentals of cooking in this 6 weeks course offered as a public service by the VEPCO including scouts from the following troops: Troop No. 211, 205, 214, 208, 244, 251, 265, 232, 200. These courses are open to any Girl Scout troop in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach, free of charge and can be arranged by calling the office of VEPCO.

The Home Economist, Mrs. Betty J. Coffey, is in charge of scheduling groups. At least 10 girls make up a class and no more than 12. They meet one night a week for 6 weeks.

Just how much enjoyment the girls get out of the course you ask? Well, the girls "Great Fun" will be the answer. In this 6 week course the girls get a little of everything that goes into making a home. The enthusiasm is wonderful and believe it not the results very tasty.

The Virginia Beach Neighborhood Watchers thanks to VEPCO and its Home Economist for making this course available to our Girl Scout Troops. VEPCO we thank you.

Other cars have changed models . . . this one changes motion. It's a break of a car with the elegance of the boulevard and the spirit of the speedway.

Get into this car, drive it into traffic or out on the open highway and you enter a new domain of travel. In 1957 Chrysler, with its new Torsion-Aire Ride, motion has a new "feel". And wait till you toe the throttle. A new Pushbutton TorqueFlite Transmission teams with a mighty airplane-type V-8 engine, developing up to 325 horsepower, to give you a new high-velocity getaway, matchless passing power when you need it.

W. T. Cooke School P-T A News

A clear need for local publicity regarding the policies, objectives and organization of the Parent-Teachers Association was pointed out at the recent state convention in Richmond.

The officers of the W. T. Cooke School P-T-A, at their last executive meeting were reminded that what to them repetitive details in their duties, are nonetheless fundamentals of monumental magnitude to the parents who make up the membership.

It is in line with these thoughts that we compose the column this week. While it may appear to be dry reading, parents are reminded that membership in ANY organization warrants close investigation of the rules, regulations, policies and objectives of it. So, too, do the Parent-Teachers Association.

BACKGROUND

The National Congress of Parent & Teachers is a volunteer organization founded in 1897, the work of which is carried and Teacher is made up of over 900 local P-T-A's with a total membership of over 210,000. The Commonwealth is divided into 5 regions, each made up of between 3 and 5 districts. Each district is made up of 4 or 5 counties. Most cities and many counties have councils or federations which go to make up a district.

Represented in our local district are Princess Anne, Norfolk, Nansemond and Isle of Wight Counties and the cities of Virginia Beach, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Suffolk and South Norfolk.

OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the P-T-A are 5-fold:

1. To promote the welfare of children & youth in home, school, church & community. 2. To raise the standards of home life. 3. To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and

SUMMARY

The objectives and policies can only be attained with the full participation of the members. It is why therefore, P-T-A's welcome into membership parents, teachers and all other citizens interested in the welfare of children and youth.

J. Menefee Retires

James W. Menefee who has been a central figure in the growth of the Norfolk and Western's dining service retired November 1 as superintendent after 47 years with the railway's dining car department. He will be succeeded by W. G. Hollyfield, chief clerk and inspector of the department.

Born on a farm near Rocky Mount, Va., Menefee joined the dining car department on November 8, 1909, five years after it was established. He was promoted to chief clerk in June, 1916 and to superintendent in March, 1932.

During World War II the department, with only 13 cars, faced a gigantic task. Between January, 1942 and August, 1945 it served 2,481,798 meals or the equivalent of 2,564 travelers a day every day. Judging from letters of commendation the department kept its high standards during that time.

Hollyfield came to the department as a clerk on November 1, 1919. He was promoted to supervisor of dining cars in May, 1943 and to chief clerk and inspector in January, 1950.

"These new Mercury's introduce a new concept of motoring with bold, new styling and many mechanical advances destined to influence the shape of cars for years to come," said F. C. Reith, Ford Motor Company vice president and Mercury general manager.

"Designed to provide unequalled driving ease, comfort, safety and performance for motorists on America's turnpikes and freeways as well as on rutty, rural roads or city streets, they represent one of the most extensive model changes in the history of the automotive industry."

"We are confident they will present Mercury's greatest challenge for public favor."

Mercury's long, flowing lines are highlighted by graceful, sculptured side projectiles topping low rear fenders and terminating in massive V-angle tail-lights which make Mercury unmistakable on any road.

The new Mercury's "dream car" styling is based on the X-M Turnpike Cruiser — an experimental model — which was introduced last January and has won nationwide approval on its coast-to-coast tour this year.

Mercury will set an industry record never equalled for a "dream car"-to-production model when dealers introduce the 1957 Mercury in showrooms all over the United States on October 29 — just 10 months later.

The 1957 Mercury is 5 inches longer than the previous model, 3 inches wider and 4 inches lower. Headroom has been increased .2 inches and there is also more hip room and leg room. Wheelbase is up .3 inches from 119 to 122 inches and the front tread is one and a half inches wider.

The new Mercury styling starts with the thin, crisp roof with its distinctive front and rear overhang. Slim but rugged pillars support the roof front and rear.

With sharply reduced car height, the roof has become an integral part of car design. First to recognize

Mercury for '57 Goes on Display Monday, Nov. 12

This important transition, 1957 Mercurys are distinguished by an unusually low silhouette, a completely new and larger body choice of 255 hp. Safety-Surge V-8 or 290 hp. Turnpike Cruiser engine and a unique new floating ride which pioneers air-cushion rear suspension on many models.

"These new Mercury's introduce a new concept of motoring with bold, new styling and many mechanical advances destined to influence the shape of cars for years to come," said F. C. Reith, Ford Motor Company vice president and Mercury general manager.

"Designed to provide unequalled driving ease, comfort, safety and performance for motorists on America's turnpikes and freeways as well as on rutty, rural roads or city streets, they represent one of the most extensive model changes in the history of the automotive industry."

Mechanically as well as in styling design, the 1957 Mercury makes newsworthy strides forward. Outstanding features are:

New Keyboard control with Merc-O-Matic transmission which is mounted on the instrument panel to the left of the steering column. It features a "Neutral-Start" button which automatically cancels the previous push button setting and engages the starter when the ignition is in the "On" position. Buttons are illuminated for night visibility.

New "floating ride" — which provides jolt-free comfort at all times and includes new, improved springing action with longer, softer front coil springs and more flexible rear leaf springs; swept-back ball-joint front suspension through which the front wheels are pulled over, rather than pushed into bumps; a lower center of gravity and scientific weight distribution which contributes to better ride, easier handling and more responsive steering.

New Station Wagons with "passenger car" riding comfort — feature air cushion rear suspension; are 10 inches longer, lower, wider, more spacious and carry 8 passengers; have hardtop styling with only one canted roof support instead of three pillars; feature a rear window that rolls down into the talkate to improve ventilation and eliminate the cumbersome liftgate; plus an all-clear loading platform (three inches lower than current models) providing a 10-inch longer through-level floor for easier loading and unloading.

New, bigger brakes — with rear brake size increased from 2 to 2.5-inches on all 1957 Mercurys and on front wheel brakes from 2.50 inches to 3 inches on Mercurys equipped with the Turnpike Cruiser engine. A new toe pedal operates an independent parking brake operating on rear brakes and released at the key-board control.

Safety group — includes a special safety jacket which protects children with a scientifically designed jacket with built-in harness attaching to seat belts; plus new front seat track stop to keep seat from leaving its tracks, impact-absorbing steering wheel, new safety door locks and padded instrument panel and sun visors.

New Body features — include new high-level, controlled cow-ventilation with fresh air taken into passenger compartment away from the exhaust air level; new, high-density, fiberglass roof insulation which absorbs all types of noise and protects from heat and cold, combines with increased body insulation which prevents road noises from entering the car; body is cradled between live rubber, improved body mounts.

New body colors — include two-tones including: flo-tones with one color on the roof, precile-shaped rear fender tops and the lower body area with a contrasting color on the remainder of the body including hood and rear deck; two-tones with a second color on the roof and the precile and solid color cars with the projectiles painted a harm zinc or contrasting color.

Newest Paul McCobb Creation

"Linear" Paul McCobb's newest furniture collection, will be introduced for the first time in Virginia Beach, at Camp Furniture at Hilltop. Distinctive and subtle in line, typical of the fine proportions brought to the American furniture scene by this leading contemporary designer. "Linear" possesses a sophisticated elegance that is rare in a moderately priced group.

A special imprint that distinguishes "Linear" is the introduction of pewter-finished accents in vertical leg trim and in precision-modeled hardware. These silvery touches, gleaming against richly-grained American walnut, add a significant new decorative theme. Offered in a selection of 38 pieces for living, bedroom and dining, "Linear's" versatility is demonstrated by the interchangeable nature of each piece for every living room.

Chests and storage pieces sleekly defined in a variety of compartments and open shelf arrangements, create interest within rooms of any size. They may be fitted horizontally or vertically to permit imaginative arrangement variations. Emphasis is equal between hidden storage and open shelves to delight the accessory-minded home decorator. A dramatic room divider creates and divides space at the same time.

In two sections, the 60" x 60" top provides accessory shelves open to view from both sides; at the left, while the shelves at the right are backed by a handsomely grained walnut panel. The low base with drawers functions separately as a cocktail table, opening to 90°. Pewter-finished metal faces the legs and stretchers to impart accent as well as protection from scuffing. A selection of two gracefully sculptured dining (deck or occasional) side and arm chairs is offered: one has a natural cane seat, while the other has an upholstered seat, available in a choice of fabrics.

Headboards for the Bedroom provide a choice too: a tailored design executed in cane, edged with walnut and silver metal, and a solid walnut panel, outlined in metal. A suspended vanity, with compartments for cosmetics and jewelry, has lift-top top, lined with a mirror. It fits between any two chests in the "Linear" collection. Three mirrors, framed in walnut with pewter-type trim, coordinate with the "Linear" theme.

One copy of such plot plan shall be returned to the owner when such plans shall have been approved or disapproved by the Building Inspector.

SECTION XIII...APPEAL.

Any person aggrieved or affected by any action or decision of the Building Inspector, may appeal as a matter of right, to the Zoning Board of Appeals as provided in Chapter 24, Article 3, Section 15-963 through Section 15-958 and Section 15-956, 1 as amended in 1950, Code of Virginia. (a) To hear and decide appeals where it is alleged there is error in any order, requirement, decision, or determination made by the Zoning Administrator in the enforcement of the provisions of this Ordinance.

(b) To grant a variation in the regulations when a property owner can show that the proposed use is carried out in good faith, and by reason of exceptional circumstances, the strict application of a specific piece of property at the time of the effective date of this Ordinance or where by reason of exceptional topographical conditions or other extraordinary or exceptional situation that the strict application of the terms of this Ordinance actually prohibit or unreasonably restrict the use of his property and where the Board is satisfied, under the evidence heard before it, the granting of such variation will alleviate a clearly demonstrable hardship approaching confiscation as distinguished from a special privilege of convenience sought by the owner, provided however, that all variations granted under this clause shall be in harmony with the intended spirit and purpose of this Ordinance and shall not constitute a direct and obvious purpose of any district regulation or district boundaries.

(c) To grant, upon such conditions and safeguards as may be necessary, variances from this Ordinance so far as may be in harmony with the general purpose and intent of this Ordinance, so that the spirit of the Ordinance shall be observed, public safety and welfare secured, and substantial justice done, including the following, after report to the Board by the County Planning Commission:

1. The extension of a district where the boundary line of a district divided a lot in a single ownership as shown of record at the time of the effective date of this Ordinance.

2. To interpret the provisions of this Ordinance which the street layout actually on the ground varies from the street layout as shown on the maps of the Master Zoning Plan.

SECTION XIV...VIOLATION AND PENALTY.

1. Any person, firm, corporation, or association violating any provisions of this Ordinance or failing or refusing to obtain the license shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than Five Dollars ($5.00), nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00), and each day's continuation of such violation shall constitute a separate offense.

2. The Zoning Administrator or any other official of the County of Princess Anne may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent the unlawful erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair or conversion of any building or structure, or the unlawful use of land, to restrain, correct or abate such violation, to prevent the use of said building, structure or land, or to prevent any illegal act, conduct, business or use in or about such premises.

3. All Ordinances and resolutions or parts thereof in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance be and are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

SECTION XV. REPEAL.

All Ordinances and resolutions or parts thereof in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance be and are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

SECTION XVI. VALIDITY.

If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance.

SECTION XVII. ORDINANCE DESIGNATION.

This Ordinance may be known, designated and cited as MASTER ZONING PLAN OF PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

SECTION XVIII. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This Ordinance shall be in effect from and after its adoption.

Interstate Highway Routes Undecided

The State Highway Department said today that although a report on a study of the 1,000-mile interstate road system in Virginia is due December 1, the final locations for those routes will not be decided at that time.

"Delivery of the report by consulting engineers who are working on studies for the general locations of the interstate routes in the state will not mean that the locations for these roads will be fixed at that time," a spokesman for the Department said.

Instead, he added, the consultant's report will from the base for surveys and studies necessary for detailed locations. Final locations for the interstate routes will be selected as surveys and plans are prepared for construction projects on these routes.

"In many instances, as long as 18 months is necessary for the completion of these preliminary studies and surveys for highway projects," he stated.

The Federal-Aid Highway Act which became effective last July 1 was directed primarily at developing the interstate highway network throughout the nation. Work and planning now under way on these roads in Virginia conforms with the provision of the act which requires that standards shall be adequate to accommodate types and volumes of traffic anticipated in 1975.

All interstate highways in Virginia will be built as multiple-lane, controlled-access facilities on rights of way ranging from 150 to 300 feet. During the 13 years envisioned by the federal program, Virginia is expected to receive about $800,000,000 to be used to

Retail Merchants Sponsor Contest To Select Child to Help Santa

The thrill of a lifetime awaits some youngster on the evening of Friday, November 23 when he or she pulls the magic switch that will illuminate downtown Virginia Beach with some 4000 gaily colored Christmas lights. The lucky little miss or master will be chosen from the first, second, third and fourth grades of all City and County public and private schools.

To enter the contest students need only to get their parents to help them write a simple composition of 50 words or less, stating "Why I Do My Shopping in Virginia Beach." All entries should be addressed to the Retail Merchants Association, P. O. Box 207, Virginia Beach, and post-marked not later than mid-night Monday, November 19. Each child is requested to enclose his or her age, grade, home address, phone number and name of school attended. Teachers of the first through fourth grades will be glad to explain the contest rules to their classes.

Mrs. Laura Lambe and Mr. W. Russell Hatchett will judge the compositions on merits of originality and convincing sales appeal. The winning author will receive a telephone call direct from Santa at the North Pole on Wednesday, the evening before Thanksgiving.

Mr. Claus has graciously continued to take time off during his rush season to drop down to Virginia Beach just long enough to help with the Christmas Lighting

Ceremony. As soon as his mission is completed, he's slated to take off for the North Pole where he'll be busier than a beaver until he makes his grand entrance to Virginia Beach via the annual Christmas parade early in December.

From then until Christmas Eve he plans to make his headquarters at the Community House, 18th and Arcade.

Cavaliers Crack Jinx

The Princess Anne Cavaliers have cracked the jinx that has plagued them all season. They whipped the Maury Commodores, 10 to 6, last Friday night before a crowd of 3000 fans at Cox Stadium.

A Maury fumble led to the Cavaliers' first touchdown in the second period and then the visitors came storming back with a 40-yard scoring drive in the final period to clinch their first win after six straight losses.

The strike is against the Caroline Coach Company and the drivers are seeking higher pay, among other things.

A news story appearing in a

Norfolk afternoon newspaper this week reported that despite the strike, the taxi business was bad in Virginia Beach. On the following morning, a Norfolk newspaper declared "taxi drivers mopping up" as a result of the strike.

OUR APOLOGY

The Sun-News is a victim of the newsprint paper shortage which has affected the newspaper industry for the past year and is expected to continue. This report is made to explain, particularly, the lack of news in this issue and the preponderance of advertising.

The number of pages contained in each issue of the Sun-News during the past several weeks has been dictated by the newsprint paper supply. Newsprint came into short supply almost one year ago and its availability has been limited. We have attempted to secure additional newsprint during the past year in an effort to stockpile our supply, but the situation has been such that we, along with all newspapers throughout the world, have not been able to secure as much paper as in other years.

In view of the seriousness of the newsprint shortage, the Sun-News covers 16 pages whereas it would normally contain 24 pages. We regret this has been the case many times during recent weeks. The Sun-News is continuing its efforts to secure additional newsprint for the future and we ask our readers to bear with us until such time as the supply of newsprint paper is available so that we may again present a newsworthy, interesting newspaper which is our aim at all times.

The Sun-News is an annual event sponsored and planned by the Virginia Beach Ministerial Association. It has always been well-attended by the community.

A fumble by Ralph Gregory, who was recovered by Maury's Spider Webb on the Cavalier 31, resulted in the Commodores' only touch. With Wilson ripping off the yardage, Maury advanced to the three. From there Cromer scored. Fred Hathaway's kick was blocked by Galatin.

Allen Bamforth and Herman McLeod paced the final Princess Anne scoring drive. A 15-yard penalty, which set the Commodores back to their own 15, also figured in the march. McLeod and Bamforth alternated to carry to the three, and Jim Laird's placement from there, Causey's placement was wide.

Mrs. H. Gray Parker, of the Princess Anne Garden Club, has been appointed a member of the Conservation Committee of the Garden Club of Virginia.

Reports of the recent meeting of the board of governors of the Garden Club of Virginia at the Chamberlin Hotel, Old Point, were made by Mrs. G. Bentley Byrd, president, at a meeting of the Princess Anne Garden Club at the home of Mrs. M. Bagley Walker, "Red Quill" on Lake Smith.

In connection with the club's project of the year, which is the preservation of Seashore State Park, colored slides of much of the natural plant life to be found in the area were shown and identified by Mrs. J. A. Parkinson, of the Cavalier Garden Club. Mrs. J. Davis Reed and Mrs. Parker of the Princess Anne Club, interesting examples of this plant life were the cypress pools, Spanish moss and the swamp magnolia.

A profile of the Misses Hill of Sea Breeze Farm, prepared by Mrs. Oscar Smith is appearing in the current issue of the Garden Club of Virginia Journal.

Civitan Foundation Members Appointed

The Board of Directors of the Civitan Foundation for Mentally Retarded and Handicapped children elected Duane Current and Dr. Howard D. Kahn to serve on the Board.

Both men are from Virginia Beach and have long been active in Civitan activities. Mr. Current is presently a Lieutenant Governor of the Chesapeake District of Civitan International while Dr. Kahn is President of the Virginia Beach Club.

Hail The Champions

This week we are proud to hail the champion Virginia Beach Seahawks, who won their first District One, Group Two football championship last week when they defeated Prince George to give them an undefeated season in Group Two play.

Winning the title after barely missing the crown for the past two seasons climaxes three seasons of excellent records for the local footballers.

The local high school has a remarkable record on the gridiron. In its first three seasons the Seahawks have hung up a won-lost record unequalled by any other school in the district. And all of this was accomplished with a minimum of experienced players on the roster.

Coach Fred Isaacs and his staff have produced results almost beyond the realm of possibility. These men and the boys they have trained on the gridiron are greatly responsible for the unusual school spirit that exists in the local high school.

The Sun-News is proud to salute the Virginia Beach High School and its championship Seahawk football team. The entire community takes pride in this team's accomplishments and congratulates the coaches and players for the honor and glory it has brought to Virginia Beach.

A new Canadian Arctic is being built by the United States and Canada. It will be the main radar site of the Canadian Early Warning network which will cover this country across 3,000 miles from Frobisher Bay in southern Baffin Island to Tuktoyaktuk on the Beaufort Sea near the Alaskan border. They will be manned by about 1,000 men hired by a civilian contractor. The United States will select to operate the DFW line.

...and thanks for calling!

Your son has the family car tonight . . . out with his "best girl." It's late—more than an hour past the time he said he'd be home. You try not to worry—but he's usually so prompt . . . even for a teen-ager.

Then the telephone.

Missionary At Scott Memorial

Miss Josephine Bullant, who has been for 27 years a missionary at the Susan interior Mission in Africa, will be the speaker in a special service at Scott Memorial Methodist Church, Ocean City, Virginia, on Sunday November 18, at 6 p.m.

Miss Bullant is one of the missionaries in charge of the High School at Agoum, in eastern West Africa. The Christian leaders of this school are working faithfully to train the native people to become teachers, ministers and leaders in the work of their own churches. The interest of the missionaries' presentation will be enhanced by the use of slides depicting the work being carried on in the mission field where only a few years ago the people were living in the darkest conditions of African witchcraft, but in which many many of the people, including the new chief of the tribe, are genuinely Christian in their faith and manner of living.

The pastor of Scott Memorial, the Rev. F. H. Streyer and Mrs. Streyer especially welcome the coming of Miss Bullant, as they will follow-up on the campaign of mercy begun in Williamsburg. The pastor extends a warm invitation to the public to missionary leaders or other guests, who would like to avail themselves of this opportunity to hear a report fresh from the field of Africa.

The regular worship of Scott Memorial Church will be held at 11:00 A.M. on Sunday morning.

What puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of FORD?

Here's what puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of Ford!

It's the sculptured look. You'll see it the moment your eyes wander over this fine car. In a '57 Ford you belong . . . anywhere.

It's the long, lean lines. There's a greyhound grace to this Ford. No useless "fat," no showy "padding." It's as trim as a jet fighter.

It's the hardtop styling. Fairlane sedans have the hardtop look of Victoria Superthin, superstrong center pillars are smartly concealed to give hardtop beauty when doors are closed.

It's the freedom of choice. Colors? Fabrics? Accessories? Far more than that! Ford gives you a choice of two new, bigger sizes . . . longer, lower, roomier!

It's the ride that stays gentle. With a new frame that rides sweater and lower, new springs, new suspension all around, even the roughest roads can't ruffle the poise of the new Ford.

It's the Thunderbird power. Ford celebrates its Silver Anniversary of V-8 leadership with the biggest selection of V-8's in Ford history. In addition to all this Thunderbird GO, there's a new and more powerful Mileage Maker Six.

Just looking at this
a special kind of fun!

It's the record-breaking performance. On the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah, a '57 Ford traveled 60,000 miles in less than 20 days . . . an average speed of 108.16 mph, including all pit stops! Another Ford averaged over 107 mph. Altogether, 458 national and international performance records were smashed as Ford rewrote the record book.

It's the big dollar value that lasts and lasts. Styled for tomorrow, a new Ford keeps its value longer. And wonder of wonders, all this extra strength, extra beauty, extra length is yours at low Ford prices!

*Included is a special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 delivering up to 265 hp.

Wise man says: "Don't wait for TOMORROW when you can get it today!"

Meet Bill Whittaker — Part Owner of a Railroad

This is Bill Whittaker, of Roanoke, Va. He is fifteen. With money earned as route carrier for The Roanoke Times, Bill has just bought his second share of Norfolk and Western stock. To buy one share at present value, he has to cover his three-mile route approximately 48 times. That's 144 miles.

A self-financing teen-ager who's a stockholder in a big business may be somewhat surprising to folks who have thought that big business is owned by a privileged few. The fact is that America's millions of stockholders are pretty average folks . . . working for a living, saving what they can, and investing their savings as they think best.

Most of these shareholders have small holdings, too. For example, among the Norfolk and Western's 31,368 stockholders, only 9,115 own as many as 100 shares, while those who own less total 22,253 — small shareholders like Bill Whittaker whose two N&W shares would pay for only a fraction of the bridge structure he's leaning on in the photo.

Sure, railroading is big business — just as you'd expect it to be with millions of Americans believing in it, sharing in it, profiting by it. It's good to realize that the bigger business is, the more it belongs to the people. Nothing is more representative of freedom and the rights of the individual than a way of life which permits its big, basic businesses to be owned by the people — not just the few, but the countless millions.

One Million Telephones in Va.

Virginia now has one million telephones according to a joint announcement by J. Ribbles Mitchell, Vice President of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia and Dennis B. Draper, President of the Virginia Independent Telephone Association representing sixty-one independent telephone companies in Virginia. The announcement was made at the annual convention of the V.I.T.A. in Roanoke.

Draper presented to Jesse W. Dillon, representing Governor Thomas B. Stanley, a telephone symbol of the one millionth telephone which will be installed in the Governor's office at Richmond within a few days. The telephone is a six-key instrument in brown color to match the decor of the Governor's office. Mounted on the telephone are the seals of the V.I.T.A. and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia and a plaque commemorating the geographical area of the State.

The growth of the telephone industry has kept pace with Virginia's telephone requirements. In 1920 there were only 133,000 telephones in Virginia. It took nearly twenty years to double this number to something under 300,000. The sixty-one telephone companies that serve two-thirds of the geographical area of the State and the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company which serves the other third have directed their combined efforts to improve and expand telephone service, making it more valuable for everyone. It required only eight years to double the number of telephones again so that by 1948 there were 600,000 telephones in Virginia. Another 300,000 were added by 1954 and 100,000 more were added in the last year and a half, bringing to one million the number serving Virginia.

Home Safety Conference Drive On Home Hazards

As many of you know, there is quite a drive on by the Home Safety Council on Home Safety. Two years ago Princess Anne County was one of the top ten counties in Virginia in number of accidents. Though now it has moved out of the top ten, it is still in the top fifteen. Many efforts are being made by various groups to call attention to those things which contribute to home hazards. In this article falls will be discussed since it is the number one hazard and the November topic of the National Safety Council.

Most falls can be prevented by volunteer individual behavior. Falls occur from running up and down stairs, using make shift ladders, failing to wipe up spilled liquids, rushing about unnecessarily, or over looking small objects on the floor.

Steps and stairs are involved in 35 per cent of fall injuries. Points to be considered here are the pitch and angle of the stairs, as well as the fact that they are often very poorly lighted. In many cases steps do not have hand rails, which of course should be used. One should never go up and down stairs with packages carried in the arms which prevent the person from seeing where he is going, and for that matter, should they be carried on a level floor making it impossible to see them. The next item listed by the National Safety Council concerning falls is the leaving of articles whether they are toys, wash balls, shoes, etc. on steps for people to fall over. Another cause of falls are rugs placed either at the top or the bottom of steps. These slip and cause the person to fall. Many times steps are broken or loose and this goes without saying that they should be repaired.

Another source of falls is the habit of some people to grab the nearest article to stand on when doing a job which needs to have a ladder. Not only is it important to have a ladder but it is important to use it properly, which means that it should be lined at the correct angle and should stand on a firm footing and fit so that it cannot slip.

When water or grease is spilled on the floor, it only requires a few seconds to wipe it up where as a few months may be required to heal a broken bone. Small rugs should either have slip proof backs or else be secured.

Whereas in our area we do not often have ice or snow, yet each time that we do, usually there is one or more accidents from falls. Sand or salt placed on steps and walks can prevent most of these falls. It is a very good idea for people who are elderly to not venture out when the going is too slippery. SAFETY PROGRAM

The presentation of an award certificate for safe operation of a bicycle and adherence to prescribed rules and laws in an outstanding manner to Steven Bellis, son of Commander and Mrs. Charles A. Bellis of 507 24th Street by Police Sergeant C. R. Bailey, Chairman of the P-T-A Safety Committee, was the highlight of the Safety Program at the regular monthly meeting in the school auditorium Monday, November 5th.

Steven, a member of Mrs. Virginia Meredith's 4th grade, was observed on a number of occasions, as were others of the student body, without his knowing it. His outstanding performance resulted in his selection for the award.

Sergeant Bailey opened the program by presenting a number of facts which pointed out the safety record of the community. He emphasized that the citizens themselves, by adhering to safe and sane driving practices, had earned the high standing in nationwide surveys.

Then by the use of visual-audio material, and with the help of School Librarian Mrs. Orlan Avett, he gave these parents and teachers present a comprehensive insight into the Bicycle Training Program.

During the month of September, the Safety Patrol was formed at the school and thoroughly instructed regarding the conduct of their duties. This included instructional movies regarding the boarding of buses and travel to and from school. October saw the beginning of the Bicycle Program. Taking 40 to 50 students at a time, the training moves from demonstration in the playground to oral tests to a 4-block escorted trip en masse on some of the more lightly travelled streets in the 15 MPH zones around the school.

The training of each group culminates in the assignment of a "license" number to each student satisfactorily passing the course. The number is painted on the rear fender of each bicycle in a contrasting color. These numbers are registered with the Virginia Beach Police Department, and serve as (1) identification of the owner, (2) successful completion of a "safe driving" course, and (3) a means of identifying a cyclist operating dangerously or recklessly. Thus far, Sergeant Bailey has assigned 282 "license" numbers.

During the month of November the theme is on safety within the school and selection of safe Christmas gifts.

This reporter, who is familiar with the activities of four schools in other areas, has yet to see a safety program with the merit of that at Willoughby T. Cooke. Sergeant Bailey, who makes practical use of the words of famous early-American frontiersmen, is to be commended by teachers and parents alike for instilling a sense of safety in the student body.

D.A.R. Meets Sat.

The November meeting of the newly formed Bay Shore Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Clifford G. Beauchamp. Mrs. Walton O. Saunders spoke on Christmas arrangements and table settings.

At an informal meeting held in October at the home of Mrs. Roy E. Foeck, Jr., Mrs. C. G. Beauchamp was elected president. Mrs. J. G. Trafton, Jr., vice president, Mrs. G. E. Miller, secretary and Mrs. T. J. Kenney, treasurer. Mrs. J. H. Van Loon was appointed program chairman and Mrs. D. E. Boykin horticultural advisor.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

It's no wonder that the mention of Thanksgiving Day immediately brings to mind thoughts of a festive holiday dinner. After all, Thanksgiving is a day that was dedicated to food.

On the first Thanksgiving in 1621, the Pilgrims gave thanks for the food that had tided them over the past winter. And, they gave thanks for the bountiful harvest which would provide them with food for the coming winter.

Highlight of the modern Thanksgiving Day dinner is the glamorous turkey that graces the table. Today I want to give you a procedure for roasting your turkey so it will come out of the oven just as glamorous and tasty as you hoped it would.

If a turkey isn't properly protected, it can lose as much as one-third of its weight in the oven. To cut down on shrinkage, and at the same time add matches flavor, I suggest you try my butter-baking method.

The turkey should be moist with butter all the while it's roasting. It's important too to roast your turkey at a low temperature — never higher than 325°. Roasting at low temperature conserves juices and minimizes drying out. Meanwhile butter not only adds good flavor but it also seals in juices and creates a tempting golden-brown color.

When you buy your turkey, allow at least one pound per person to be served ready-to-cook weight. This may be as much as 5 pounds under store weight. You will need ¾ pound of butter for roasting and basting the turkey and ½ pound of butter for stuffing.

Here is the step by method for butter roasting your turkey.

First, stuff and truss the bird. This is the recipe for the stuffing for a 16 pound turkey. Use two large loaves of four-day old bread. Cube bread into ½ inch cubes. Toast in oven. Sauté ½ cup minced onion in 4 tablespoons butter until soft, not brown. To the bread cubes add onions, ¼ cup melted butter, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning. Mix.

Fill the turkey loosely with this stuffing. Run skewers or stuffing mabs through flesh on both sides of opening. Lace with strong, clean cord. Close neck opening by pulling neck skin to back and fastening to backbone with sever. Pull legs high, bind together. Bring cord down around sides to keep wings close to body. Or, if there is a bridge of skin at abdominal opening, push drumsticks underneath this bridge. It will hold them down without skewers and cord. Shape wings "akimbo" style and bring wing tips onto the back.

The second step is to butter the bird. Soften the butter. Then spread it over the entire turkey, especially on top of the drumsticks, breast, and wings. This gives a protective coating of butter from the start. Now place the turkey on a rack in a shallow pan, breast side up.

For the third step, dip a moist cheesecloth in melted butter. Drape the cloth over the bird. Arrange the cloth so the turkey is entirely covered. The butter on the cheesecloth bastes the turkey. By preventing shrinkage, the butter gives you more meat to serve.

The fourth step is to brush frequently with melted butter during roasting. Brush the butter right over the cheesecloth. Do not cover the roasting pan or add water. Also, do not puncture the turkey with a fork to see if it is done because this causes loss of juice. Roast at a constant tempera-

While I was there a funny little guy—a spectator, like me—came up to the foreman on the job and started making all sorts of suggestions: "Shouldn't it go a little farther left there?... Why don't you bank the curves more?... Those ditches are awful close!... and so, and on."

The foreman took it as long as he could, then asked politely, "How does she look for length?"

2. Should any non-conforming building be destroyed or damaged in excess of fifty per cent of said building's original construction cost, such non-conforming use shall be discontinued and only a conforming use shall thereafter be permitted when said building is rebuilt.

SECTION X. GENERAL PROVISIONS: Regulations specified in this Ordinance shall be subject to the following general provisions and exceptions:

1. Dwelling and apartments erected in commercial districts shall be subject to the regulations governing such dwelling or apartment use unless first permitted by the terms of this Ordinance.

2. Where a lot is of a sufficient size to permit the erection of more than one building in conformity with all area requirements of the district in which it is located, there may be permitted on the remaining portion of such lot additional buildings for residential purposes which do not abut upon a street, provided an easement or right of way of ten (10) feet or more in width is provided to permit ingress and egress to any additional residential building constructed on such lot. Satisfactory evidence that such easement or right of way has been duly recorded shall be presented and approved by the County Planning Commission before issuance of a building permit.

3. Wedge shaped or irregularly shaped lots may be permitted having a frontage of less than the frontage required by the district where lots are to be platted, provided the required lot width is complied with at the building setback line which shall be shown on a recorded survey of said lot.

4. 6. The minimum floor area of residential dwelling units shall be determined exclusive of garages, unenclosed porches, carports, breezeways, or utility rooms. Dwelling unit areas on second floors may not be included.

7. No outside stairway extending to the second floor of a single family or duplex dwelling shall be permitted on any building in the Rural Residence, Residence Suburban and Residence Duplex Districts.

11. In any residence district, no building having curved metal roofs, or walls shall be constructed, altered or altered within two hundred (200) feet of any property line; however, salt metal frame buildings may be used for temporary headquarters by contractors, construction companies and the like for offices or storage during the time required to complete the building or dwelling for which a building permit has been issued.

However, should two or more lots be combined for a building site, the off-street parking area as required by the district controlling said lot shall apply.

19. In all commercial and industrial districts, off - street parking shall be provided in ratio of one permanently maintained parking space of five hundred (500) square feet for each two hundred (200) square feet of building area.

20. The establishment or maintenance of trailer camps in any district where such trailer camps are permitted shall conform to the County Ordinance regulating such trailer camps adopted June 1, 1955, and subsequently amended.

21. Outside toilets and hog farms shall be confined to agricultural districts only.

SECTION XI. AMENDMENT.

1. The County Board of Supervisors may, from time to time, on its own motion or on petition from property owners after public notice and hearing as required by law and after report by the County Planning Commission, amend, supplement or change the district boundaries or regulations herein or subsequently established.

(a) After a public hearing is held upon any contemplated amendment to or change of this Ordinance, or the boundaries of any of the districts established by this Ordinance, at least fifteen (15) days notice thereof shall be given by one publication of notice in a newspaper of general circulation within Princess Anne County.

(b) Every application by a property owner to amend, supplement or change the district boundaries or regulations of this Ordinance shall be filed in writing with the Secretary of the Board of Supervisors, and shall be accompanied by a fee of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00), to be paid to the County Treasurer, which shall be applied to the cost of advertising and expense incidental to review, publishing and reporting the facts.

(c) The Secretary shall forward any applications for any proposed amendment, supplement or change of district boundaries or regulations to the County Planning Commission for recommendation and report.

2. In determining what, if any, amendments to this Ordinance are to be adopted, the County Board of Supervisors shall give due consideration to the proper relationship to such amendments to the entire Zoning Plan and Ordinance for the County of Princess Anne, it being the intent to retain the integrity and validity of the Zoning Districts herein described, and to avoid any isolated spot Zoning changes on the Zoning Map. Any amendments adopted by the Board of Supervisors shall be made from the form in which they were advertised within the limit of time to rule previously submitted to the Zoning Plan and Ordinance. Final action on such modifications shall be subject to review and report of the Planning Commission prior to final passage by the County Board of Supervisors.

3. No application for a Use Permit or change of zoning of any lot, parcel or portion thereof, shall be considered by the County Board of Supervisors within one year of the final action of the County Board of Supervisors upon a prior application covering any of the same described lands. This provision, however, shall not impair the right of the County Board of Supervisors to propose any amendment or change in the boundaries of any of the districts in this Ordinance on its own motion.

SECTION XII. ENFORCEMENT.

1. This Ordinance shall be enforced by the Building Inspector.

2. All applications for building permits as required by the Building Code shall be accompanied by plots in duplicate, showing the actual shape and dimension of the lot to be built upon, the size and location on the lot of the building or buildings and accessory buildings

One copy of such plot plan shall be returned to the owner when such plans shall have been approved or disapproved by the Building Inspector.

SECTION XIII. APPEAL. Any person aggrieved or affected by any action or decision of the Building Inspector, may appeal as a matter of right, to the Zoning Board of Appeals as provided in Chapter 24, Article 8, Section 15-863 through Section 15-855 and Section 15-850, I as amended in 1950, Code of Virginia. The said Board of Zoning Appeals may be appropriate cases and subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards, vary the application of the terms of this Ordinance with its general purpose and interest and in accordance with general rules herein contained.

The Board of Zoning Appeals shall have the following powers, and it shall be binding:

(a) To hear and decide appeals where it is alleged there is error in any order, requirement, decision, or determination made by the Zoning Administrator in the enforcement of the provisions of this Ordinance.

(b) To grant a variation in the regulations when a property owner can show that his property was acquired in good faith, and can demonstrate that such exception or variance, or a portion of a specific piece of property at the time of the effective date of this Ordinance or where by reason of exception or topographical conditions or other extraordinary or exceptional situation that the strict application of the terms of this Ordinance actually prohibit or unreasonably restrict the use of his property, and where the Board is satisfied, under the evidence heard before it, the granting of such variation will alleviate a clearly demonstrable hardship apprezzing confiscation as distinguished from a special privilege of convenience sought by the owner, provided however, that all variations granted under this clause shall be in harmony with the intended spirit and purpose of this Ordinance and shall not constitute a direct and obvious amendment of any district regulations or district boundaries.

(c) To determine such variances from the Ordinance as may be in harmony with the general purpose and intent of this Ordinance so that the spirit of the Ordinance shall be observed, public safety and welfare secured, and substantial justice done, including the following, after report to the Board by the County Planning Commission:

1. The extension of a district where the boundary line of a district divided a lot in a single ownership as shown by record at the time of the effective date of this Ordinance.

2. To interpret the provisions of this Ordinance where the street layout actually on the ground varies from the street layout as shown on the maps of the Master Zoning Plan.

SECTION XIV. VIOLATION AND PENALTY.

1. Any person, firm, corporation, or association violating any provisions of this Ordinance or failing or refusing to obtain the license shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than Five Dollars ($5.00), nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00), and each day's continuation of such violation shall constitute a separate offense.

2. The Zoning Administrator or any other official of the County of Princess Anne may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent the unauthorized erection, construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair or conversion of any building or structure, or the unlawful use of land, to restrain, control or abate such violation, to prevent the occupancy of said building structure or land, or such violations, to prevent occupancy of said building structure or land, or to prevent any illegal act, conduct, business or use in or about such premises.

SECTION XV. REPEAL. All Ordinances and resolutions or parts thereof in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

SECTION XVI. VALIDITY. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance.

SECTION XVII. ORDINANCE DESIGNATION. This Ordinance may be known, designated and cited as MASTER ZONING PLAN OF PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

VB - PA Joy Fund Urges Support of Citizenry

The Virginia Beach - Princess Anne County Joy Fund urgently needs your donation: money or toys, to enable them to carry out the program of caring for the needy and less fortunate of the county and City of Va. Beach. Through generous contributions last year the Joy Fund brought Joy to more than 360 families with nearly 900 children receiving toys from the toy bank.

For many years the Virginia Beach Fire Department under the direction of Chief Bubble Bayne has been the collection agency and has reconditioned used toys which are given away to carefully screened applicants during the last few days before Christmas. These men are right now busy in Santa's Workshop located at 30th Street and Arctic Avenue and they urgently need more toys which they will repair and repaint for the children.

Contributions are now being received by the two local newspapers: The Sun-News, and The Free Press and The Joy Fund Committee, Box 274, Va. Beach.

Seahawks Show Champion Stuff In 19-6 Victory Over Prin. Anne

A Virginia Beach High School team that has lost only five games in its four-year football history, completed a productive 1956 schedule with another especially rewarding victory last Friday night. Already crowned District One, Group Two Champions, the Seahawks scored twice in the fourth quarter to master their Group One neighbor, Princess Anne, 10-6.

Ken Sydenstricker ran 10 yards on an off-tackle play to put Virginia Beach ahead 12-6 on the final sammie of the final period. Then with 76 seconds left Harold James intercepted a Ralph Weatherington pass and raced 22 yards for a clinching score. After missing his first two conversions, Tommy Barnes made good the tie.

The Seahawks had taken a 6-0 lead in the second period. Al Crossell on Stan Fisher's end zone fumble after Pat Standing jarred the ball loose. An epic 65-yard punt by Bill Culverhouse and Skip Jones' tackle on the three-yard line set it up.

Halfback Sydenstricker, quarterback James, halfback Barnes, right guard Cross, left guard Standing and halfback Culverhouse were among 15 seniors playing in their final Virginia Beach game.

Princess Anne's Ralph Gregory ran 30 yards for a touchdown midway through the third period. Two plays after Maurice Melencamp recovered a Seahawk fumble, that made it 6-6, but the Cavaliers could not maintain momentum.

This, the season's largest crowd here, 4,500, saw the Seahawks retain their unofficial county title in completing an 8-1-1 season. The Group Two title clinched last week was the school's first, but in four seasons under Wake Forest graduate Fred Lasson the Seahawks have won 33 games, lost five and tied one.

A Princess Anne squad that won only once in its first Group One season, offered the A-formation and a defense that contained four first half drives inside the 30. Scoring — (Cross, recovered fumble); Sydenstricker (10, run); James (28, pass interception); PAT — Barnes, Princess Anne; Touchdown — Gregory (30, run).

Football Banquet To Honor Beach Seahawks

Ralph Guglielmi, former All-American football star at the University of Notre Dame and presently a member of the red hot Washington Redskins of the National Professional Football League, will be the featured speaker Wednesday night when the Kiwanis Club sponsored banquet honoring the Virginia Beach High School Seahawks at the American Legion Home on Laskin Road.

In addition to Guglielmi, Clarence "Ace" Parker will also be on the program of the annual football jamboree which is given each year by the Kiwanians.

Guests of the Kiwanis Club will be players, coaches and managers of the Seahawk football team. The Seahawks won the District One, Group Two Championship this year and posted a season record of eight wins, one loss and a tie. The local team's only loss this season was a 7 to 6 decision to Groton One Petersburg.

Approximately 250 guests are expected to attend the banquet including many area newspaper, radio and television personalities. Chandler Harper, nationally known golf star, is expected to be present. Also Judges Floyd K. Kilham and Henry McKenzie, John B. Dey, chairman of the Princess Anne County School Board, Frank W. Cox, superintendent of schools, and the Honorable Harry B. Davis.

Individual awards will be presented to the players, coaches and managers and a special award will be presented to the Virginia Beach High School.

JUNIOR RED CROSS ON THE MOVE

Billion Dollar Shipping Through Virginia Ports

The Virginia State Ports Authority announced today that the total value of exports and imports moving through Virginia ports during 1956 amounted to nearly one billion dollars, according to recent figures supplied by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce in a report on all United States waterborne foreign trade for 1954. The total includes both general and bulk cargo.

A comparison of figures for Virginia ports with those for Baltimore reflects that Baltimore's total foreign trade for 1956 was $947,000,000 which represents a loss of $34,300,000 from the total value for 1954. New York's foreign trade for 1955 was $6,777,300,000 representing a decrease of $919,000.

The Authority said this report gives the total value of $902,300,000 to foreign commerce moving through Virginia ports during 1955 which exceeds by $39,600,000 the value of the State's waterborne commerce for the calendar year 1954.

Tobacco exports for 1956 had an estimated value of $932,100,000 followed by coal at $259,920,000 and grains at $81,350,000. The total value of imported petroleum and petroleum products was estimated at $71,300,000 for the year.

Mail Christmas Gifts Early Says Postmaster Howard S. Myers

Postmaster Howard S. Myers, who launched his 1956 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign today, believes a word or two to the wise will help make your Christmas and those of your friends and loved ones as merry as it should be.

With Christmas only a little more than a month away, the Post Office is geared up right now to insure the delivery of all gift packages and Christmas Cards by December 25th, but your cooperation is essential.

Speaking about his plans, the Postmaster said, "There's about 167 million people in this country today. More than ever before. More Christmas mail. That's why it's so important to have a helping hand from the public to 'Mail Early For Christmas.' The Postmaster especially directed his appeal to 'the lady of the house,' because she usually selects the Christmas cards, buys most of the gifts, and sees to it that the Christmas mailing list is up-to-date.

A modest investment in heavy wrapping paper, sturdy empty cartons, strong cord and craft paper adhesive tape will pay big dividends in safe deliveries of your cherished Christmas gift.

Predicting that this year's

Christmas mail will set a new all time record, exceeding even the 1955 260 pieces of mail handled here in 1955, the Postmaster urged that you take the following steps at once: Check your Christmas card lists very carefully — make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state. Then, secure Pamphlet No. 2 at the Post Office, telling you about Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing and Pamphlet No. 3, giving full details on Domestic Postage Rates and Fees.

Also, ask for free labels reading "All For Local Delivery" and "All For Out of Town Delivery," so that you can speed arrival of your Christmas Cards by sorting and tying them in two separate bundles with the addresses all facing one way.

A modest investment in heavy wrapping paper, sturdy empty cartons, strong cord and craft paper adhesive tape will pay big dividends in safe deliveries of your cherished Christmas gift.

If you'd like to include your Christmas Cards or letters inside the packages with your gifts, just add the appropriate First Class mail postage to the postage for the packages themselves. This combination mail service recently introduced by the Post Office Department insures simultaneous arrival of your gifts and greetings.

Remember, that only Christmas Cards carrying three cents, or six cents Air Mail postage, may include a personal message. Nothing more than a signature is authorized on cards mailed at the two cent Third Class rate, and be sure your return address is on every Christmas Card envelope — this is socially correct, and helps both you and your friends to keep your mailing lists up-to-date.

After your gift wrapping and packing is complete and your Christmas Cards are addressed and stamped, plan your mailings so that those for the most distant points go first. Try to get all long-distance mailings into the Post Office before December 10th and those for nearby points should be mailed by December 15th.

Two Women Indicted in Prin. Anne

PRINCESS ANNE — Two women were indicted here Monday for the separate butcher knife and pistol slayings of a Navy chief and a motor company employee.

One was honey-blond Mrs. Helen Marian Sutlin, charged with shooting her husband, Chief Boatswain's Mate Edward N. Smith, in their home Oct. 12.

The other was Mrs. Josie Brinkley, wife of a Norfolk policeman, who is accused of stabbing William L. Daniel in the Brinkley home Sept. 23.

Mrs. Smith reportedly has told police that she killed her husband after he had struck her and threatened her. Mrs. Brinkley was indicted despite the fact that she and the dying man both stated that he had stabbed himself. A medical examiner's report cast doubt on whether the wound could have been self-inflicted.

The two indictments were among 19 returned by a Princess Anne County Circuit Court grand jury which had been given 26 presentations by Commonwealth's Attorney Robert S. Wahab Jr. On three presentations no action was taken, while four more were dismissed.

Comdr. White Addresses Local Woman's Club

The Junior Woman's Club of Princess Anne County held their November meeting at the American Legion Home, with Mrs. William Ferrell, president, presiding.

Mrs. F. M. Durham, Civil Defense Chairman, who was in charge of the program, presented Commander Justus P. White, Red Cross Civil Defense Coordinator for the City of Virginia Beach. Commander White stated that, "Civil Defense has to start in the home, regarding simple everyday safety precautions." In event of hurricanes, or enemy attacks, emergency food and water supplies should be on hand. He stated the supreme importance of every Mother being well versed in First Aid. In the event of enemy attack, no immediate medical aid could be obtained. First Aid kits should be kept up to date and well supplied.

A short business session preceded the program. The club accepted a recommendation from the board to solicit one-half of Princess Anne County in the forthcoming "Mothers March on Poverty." As one of the ten agencies of your local Community Chest, the Princess Anne Unit feels priviledged to have these people working for its betterment. Mr. Baxter Sparks, Executive Secretary, is in charge of the Unit's office in the Community House, Virginia Beach 4575.

The annual Poster Contest for the Cancer Society will commence right after the first of the year. Mrs. James W. Allen, Jr. will serve as Chairman of the Contest.

As one of the ten agencies of your local Community Chest, the Princess Anne Unit of the American Cancer Society once again asks that you please give generously to the Community Chest if you have not already done so.

Mrs. John T. Goode was elected corresponding secretary due to the resignation of Mrs. Stanley Hudgins from that office.

There are some people who believe that a cash contribution is all that they are expected to do for their communities.

Santa Land at Community Hse.

December 4th promises to be a gala day for the residents of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, when excited crowds will gather to hail old Santa as he arrives at the Christmas City-By-The-Sea via his spectacular annual parade.

Something new has been added, however, to the City's plans for the 1956 Christmas season. Mr. Claus, with the able assistance of chairman, Leo Hoarty is setting up a wonderland SANTALAND at the Community House, 18th Street and Arctic Avenue.

"Baby sitting" services, under the supervision of trained playground instructors and nurses, will be available for the children of busy shoppers. Only a nominal registration fee will be asked. While parents go merrily on their carefree ways, the youngsters will have the time of their lives in SANTALAND, where fun galore has been planned: kiddie rides and a snack bar, free candy and toys from St. Nick's magic packet. Each afternoon movies will be shown and there will be TV, so no need to fry miss his favorite show. Then too, of course, there'll be a photographer to snap pictures of Johnnie and Sue Mae perched on the jolly old elf's lap. A real Christmas picnic and the greatest convenience to Tidewater shoppers since Virginia Beach stores first opened their doors!

Mrs. Maude E. Saunders will be in charge of child care and the various amusements provided. The elaborate decorations for SANTALAND will come under the talented supervision of Mrs. Estelle Dolgin.

The kick-off to the Virginia Beach Christmas program will come this Friday evening at 6:30 P.M. when "merry" twinkling lights will illuminate the sidewalk at 21st Street and transform the entire downtown area into your Christmas City-By-The-Sea. Jimmie Kitchen has announced that Santa promises to be on hand to assist with the ceremony. Official "Christmas Lighters" will be the aid of boy who will light the school-wide composition candles.

"Bump Free" Rides For Future Motoring

"Bump Free" rides on continuously reinforced concrete pavement are available now in at least five states of the United States, according to American Iron and Steel Institute. Many other highways may be similarly improved in the future. Research is now going forward to place the design of such roads on a sound engineering basis.

The "bump-bump-bump" effect is caused by the joints in the highways. These roads were built in segments, to allow for expansion and contraction due to temperature changes.

Engineers now believe that the joints may be unnecessary. They say that continuously reinforced concrete pavement may result in lower maintenance costs, in addition to providing smoother rides.

Indiana, Illinois, New Jersey, California and Texas are among the states that have stretches of continuously reinforced concrete pavement. The Indiana road was built in 1938, followed by Illinois and New Jersey in 1947, California in 1949 and Texas in 1951. A new stretch is being constructed in Pennsylvania.

The Committee on Reinforced Concrete Research, of American Iron and Steel Institute — composed of 22 producers of concrete reinforcing bars — is helping to sponsor research on the Pennsylvania highway, which is near York, Pa. The tests are being conducted by Lehigh University.

A prominent highway engineer believes that the life of continuously reinforced concrete pavement will exceed that of other pavement designs by a number of years.

Thanksgiving..1956

This is an average American Family.

Like all of us, they enjoy a standard of living unequalled in the history of mankind. And, like all of us, their freedom is built on a strong spiritual faith and the democratic principles upon which our nation was founded and has grown great.

With divine guidance, we and our forefathers fought for, won and preserved the basic human freedoms and the dignity of man. Because of this freedom, America is an inspiration and hope of peoples of many lands whose lives are blighted by the iron curtain of slavery.

More than 300 Thanksgivings ago, the colonists who suffered hardships, privation and hunger, were humbly grateful for a good harvest and offered devout thanks to God for the freedom and security they found in the New World.

This Thanksgiving, we continue that sacred tradition. Families throughout the length and breadth of America should pause to reflect on their good fortune . . . to give thanks for their countless blessings . . . to rededicate themselves to eternal vigilance and prayer to keep the priceless heritage of liberty and spiritual freedom.

The members of the Norfolk and Western Family join fellow Americans everywhere in the observance of this significant day. And let us all remember that this year in America Thanksgiving Day is truly a day for Thanksgiving, and prayer for peace throughout the world.

Harvest Time in Turkey

THIS TURKISH BOY AND GIRL tend a hand before school hours to gather sige and sultana grapes for which Turkey is so well known. Rapid mechanization has resulted in the increased use of tractors in Turkey from 2,000 to 45,000 within six years. This, coupled with the expansion of agricultural credits, has made the Turkish farmer for the first time in a long while the master of his own pocket. His over-all output has doubled and, with a higher standard of living, he has become the torchbearer of democracy in his own country and the Middle East.

THANKSGIVING 1956

Once again we have reached the season of the year which is Thanksgiving, a time to pause and give thanks for all our blessings. This is annual custom that has been handed down through generations, but Thanksgiving Day should not just be one, among 365 days that we offer our thanks.

As Americans our blessings are many and we should not only give thanks at Thanksgiving time but we should reflect daily in counting our blessings.

While there is unrest in the world today we, as free Americans, can be thankful that we live in a country like ours. We give thanks for our blessings and at the same time we might pray for those in other lands who are less fortunate.

We feel that Thanksgiving should be a habit that is practiced every day in every year and should not be confined to the calendar which tells us that it is Thanksgiving Day.

The Sun-News is thankful for its many friends. Members of the Sun-News family join in wishing a happy Thanksgiving giving to all at this Thanksgiving holiday season.

OUR OWN JOY FUND

Have you given to the Virginia Beach Joy Fund yet?

Yes, we know. The organization to which you belong has donated from its ample funds. Or you dropped a dollar in the hat when it was passed at the last meeting. Or you made your donation to the Norfolk fund. Or you felt that your Community Chest contribution took care of such matters. Or you personally have made arrangements to give to a poor, poor family that Mrs. Jones knows all about.

But have you taken a dollar from your purse or pocket, knowing that it was the dollar you had planned for that extra movie, those extra desserts, that lovely pair of ear rings, and donated it to the Joy Fund instead, thus turning those nice, but unnecessary luxuries into food, clothing and toys for people who really need them?

That's the way to GIVE to the Joy Fund. "That's the way to make yourself believe in the Biblical "It's better to give than to receive."

100 Cities Have Shown Way to Cut Traffic Deaths Through Stepped-Up Enforcement, Get-Tough Drives

The days of winking at drivers who wink at the law are coming to an end. The era of coddling traffic lawbreakers soon will be over, it is hoped.

All over the nation many city, county and state police departments are cracking down on flagrant law violators in a determined effort to bring relief in our present national traffic emergency.

Every day, more and more public officials are recognizing that habitual traffic offenders are potential killers and that drastic steps must be taken to protect pedestrians and the careful and law-abiding drivers from these "homicidal highway men."

Last year alone traffic law violations were involved in the deaths of 13,700 of the nation's 38,000 highway victims.

"Fortunately, many of the steps necessary for correction are readily available," said Franklin M. Kreml, who for 20 years has been director of the traffic division of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

"We know the term 'accident' is a misnomer," Kreml stated, "and we know that collisions are caused occurrences."

"Since some violation of the traffic laws can be identified as the cause in such an overwhelming number of collisions, it follows that this basic root of evil must be attacked vigorously and be reduced as rapidly as we are to cut our traffic toll."

"More than 100 cities throughout the country have demonstrated dramatically and conclusively that the best way to save lives in traffic accidents is to deter lawbreakers through stepped up and impartial enforcement programs."

Although law enforcement is essential to the life-saving effort, it is only one of two basic ingredients, said Kreml, now on leave from his IACP post to head the Transportation Center, Evansville, Ill.

"The other important ingredient is support and acceptance by the public of good enforcement to the point where any driver who gets a ticket fully realizes that the policeman who is writing the summons is exercising the kind of supervision that some day could save the life of the offender's family."

In each of the cities that have included stepped up law enforcement as part of the official traffic program, we have seen the same—lives have been saved and the accident rate has dropped.

The law enforcement approach is spreading to more cities and to county and state levels.

The spread to state levels is significant because more than half of all traffic fatalities occur on roads under the jurisdiction of state and county police departments.

A recent survey shows that governors of 38 states either have launched get-tough drives or are considering such action.

About two years ago Gov. Langley of Washington inaugurated an enforcement drive called the "governor's traffic war." The accident rate in Washington dropped immedately, and it's been estimated that the drive has saved about 175 lives.

Other states have experienced similar success through get-tough drives on violators.

Over one three-day holiday, Illinois traffic killed 47 persons. After the three-day period, traffic tickets during that three-day period, he stepped up law enforcement over the next three-day holiday by calling out units of the national guard to aid the state highway patrol.

The number of arrests climbed to 1,414, but the Illinois death count dropped to 13.

In one recent month in Vermont, accidents decreased 20 per cent as arrests increased 100 per cent. A drive in 1955 helped Idaho reduce traffic fatalities about 23 per cent.

Gov. Simon of New Mexico credited the state's improved record last year to a "strenuous crackdown on moving traffic violations."

On Memorial Day, Gov. Hibben of Connecticut called out 100 national guardsmen and put them in 42 jeeps and three helicopters to help with traffic duty. The governor also deeded suspension of licenses for convicted speeders. The enforcement effort was so successful that not a single accident of any type occurred on either of the state's two main traffic arteries.

Cities and states that have stepped up traffic enforcement have proved that get-tough drives on lawbreakers will work and will produce dramatic life-saving results.

Children's Book Fair At Friend's School Nov. 29

Here's something to give thanks for this community — a Children's Book Fair, to be held Thurs. Nov. 29 from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Virginia Beach Friends School on Laskin Road. If you've been wondering what to give your favorite child for Christmas, here's your solution.

There'll be a wide selection of books on display, all day — both the classics and the very latest coming.

Furthermore, they will all have been selected with the greatest care by two authorities in widely different fields — Mrs. Anne Belle Croonenberghs, principal of Friends School, whose primary interests are the education and development of children, and Mrs. Ursula Lyle, one of the three co-owners of the Ragged Robin Bookshop, who knows from experience that books really "take."

There will also be two eminent speakers at the Book Fair, both of whom have a number of highly successful children's books to their credit.

Myra Reed Richardson will speak at 10 a.m. Her specialty is books for "middle-aged children." In 1951, her book "Finders Keepers" won the Junior Literary Guild Award. A resident of Wilton Cohn, now wintering in Williamsburg, she will be visiting her daughter, Mrs. David Bachelor, of Virginia Beach.

At 2 p.m., Fran Martin of Norfolk, will be the speaker. Every body knows Fran Martin, not only as the author of such distinguished children's books as "Knockdown Down" and (last year) "Pirate Island," but as Children's Book Editor of The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

As of this week, 200 books had been ordered already for the Book Fair, to satisfy the age groups from four to the teens. "It is possible and likely," said Mrs. Croonenberghs, "that there will be double that number to choose from on the day of the Book Fair itself."

Those who feel bewildered by such a dazzling display can receive advice, if desired, from Mrs. Croonenberghs, Mrs. Lyle, Mrs. Richardson, or Mrs. Martin. The two authors will also autograph their own books.

The Fair is part of the celebration of National Children's Book Week in America. We're happy to have one base of operation here at Virginia Beach, on Laskin Rd.

New 'Leash' on Life!

THE FATE OF 50,000 PETS, ranging from puppies to porcupines, rests each year in the hands of the Illinois Citizens Animal Welfare League, Chicago. At its privately-supported shelter, kindness to animals is practiced 24 hours a day, every day.

DOGS ARE MOST POPULAR "GUESTS." But after holidays, shelter takes in scores of chicks, ducklings, rabbits who outgrow accommodations.

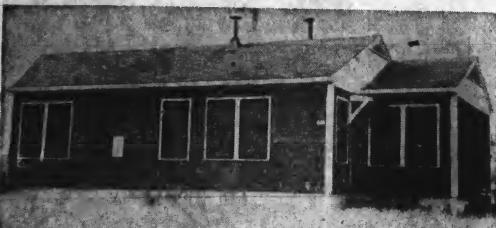

GOAL OF LEAGUE is to find homes for deserted or unwanted pets. Adoption is one of easiest thing the can happen to domesticated animals.

NEWEST AID TO HUMANE WORK is "Animal Ambulance" unit, on duty from 8:00 a.m. until midnight. Specially designed cages in International-Metro truck handle animals as large as goats and ponies. Vehicle picks up only animals in distress.

HUNT BLAST CAUSE . . . Explosion of 7 dynamite-laden trucks at Cali, Colombia, killed estimated 1,800 people and caused damage of $10,000,000.

Eastern Shore Chapel Gift & Bake Goods Sale

The Women's Auxiliary of the Eastern Shore Chapel, located on Leaskin Road, will hold a Holiday Gift and Bake Goods Sale at the Parish House on Friday, November 30th from 10 A.M. until 2 P.M. The Public is invited to attend.

"Is Atlantis a Myth?" will be the topic of a lecture by Peter Schultz, of the William and Mary College faculty, Sunday afternoon.

He will be speaking at the national headquarters of the Association for Research and Enlightenment, 67th and Atlantic Avenue, at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Schultz has traveled widely in Europe and in this country presenting illustrated lectures on topics of historical interest. He will speak Sunday from his study of the outstanding books on Atlantis and from the material on that lost continent as given in the psychic readings of Edgar Cayce.

Hugh Lynn Cayce, general manager of the A. R. E., lectured last Sunday on "The Dead Sea Scrolls" and the Edgar Cayce Readings," to a large audience. On the previous Sunday, a lecture was given by Bill Peterson on "The Endocrinology Glands."

Cayce pointed out in his lecture that there are many similar points between the Edgar Cayce readings and the Dead Sea Scrolls.

Many scholars of the Dead Sea Scrolls have indicated, he said, that the origins of Christianity were greatly influenced by the Essenes, a community of Jews dedicated to the preparation for the coming of the Messiah.

Cayce stated that the Edgar Cayce readings presented this view ten years before the discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls in Jordan in 1947, and that the readings further presented much additional information concerning the life and times of Jesus.

The lectures are the first in a series of forum lectures to be presented at the A.R.E. on Sunday afternoons. The general public is invited to attend.

PENNY PINCHER

Getting ahead financially is not a matter of "pinching pennies." Quite to the contrary! Actually you can spend money more happily (because free from worries and misgivings) once you have embarked on a program of systematic saving.

First step is to establish the amount that you reasonably can and most certainly will save each payday. Then see to it that these dollars go promptly into your savings account every week . . . before they have a chance to go elsewhere. You'll have more fun spending what's left . . . when you do your savings FIRST!

Beach Civitans Learn About Ham Radio

Two of Virginia's leading Amateur Radio Operators Addressed the Virginia Beach Civitan Club on Tuesday Nov. 20.

Presley B. White (W4OM), Virginia Beach Attorney and Penlon F. Priest, Jr. (W4KWF) President of the Radio Equipment Co., of Norfolk, told the Civitans of the role which Amateur Radio may play in the Nation's plans for Civil Defense, and what it has done already in times of Local Emergency, as when Hurricane Hazel struck the Tidewater Region.

After describing how radio "amateurs" have contributed to modern radio and television through their experiments with high frequency transmission, Mr. White and Mr. Priest demonstrated the flexibility of "ham" radio.

Talking from the dining-room of the Dolphin Hotel, W4KWF (Mr. Priest) talked with W4OM (Mr. White) who was riding in his automobile in the Virginia Beach Area. This demonstration showed how mobile operation of amateur equipment would provide communication when ordinary sources of power might be cut off. Following the discussion of radio, Joshua P. Vaughn II, operator of the Williams Fleeting Pier was invited into the Club.

Thanks Giving Should Be Daily Event In Living

By Madeline White Dickerson
Now that Thanksgiving day has rolled around again, here we are at the table. All our faces are shining bright. For we are happy to be together again. Together as a family should be.

The Council has been working with the SREB for a year in organizing the mental health program, securing staff, and holding conferences on several of the major professions concerned in state and local mental health programs.

Mr. William J. McGlothlin, Associate Director of the SREB, has been serving as acting director of the mental health program. Staff members, as of January 1, will be Dr. Paul Penningroth, mental health associate, and Mrs. Mary Howard Smith, mental health assistant. One other staff member will be secured, Dr. Ivey said.

Dr. Bloomberg is a graduate of Harvard Medical School. He received his graduate training at the Massachusetts General Hospital and the Boston Psychopathic Hospital. He also attended the University of Halle in Germany.

In addition to his position at the Veterans' Hospital, Dr. Bloomberg is associate professor of neurology and psychiatry at the Boston University School of Medicine. He has been visiting professor of psychiatry at the University of California; served as neuropsychiatric consultant, First Service Command during World War II; and has worked with numerous hospitals, penal institutions, and universities as consultant in psychiatry and neurology.

Dr. Bloomberg was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., is married, and has one daughter. He is a Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association; a member of the Group for Advancement of Psychiatry; and has served as president of the Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene; of the Massachusetts Society for Research in Psychiatry; and of the Boston Society of Psychiatry and Neurology.

your family, you are twice blessed. have I? Now, I would never say such a thing! For I have realized your children. They are your pride along this path-way of life, just and joy. Can they run and play? How very, very lucky I have been.

There is an old adage, parable, or quotation I picked up along the way. It set me to thinking. I would like to pass it on to you. If I may. For this parable will answer the above question. If only one would think upon it.

Here it is—"I wept because I had no shoes—Then I met a man who had no feet." The object is this. You can always look around you and see some-one much, much worse off than you. So—this fine Thanksgiving day—start counting your blessings!

I myself was once guilty. I even asked myself that question—what task.

In the center of the table is the turkey. It is big and plump. A beautiful bird. It has been browned to a turn. It is just waiting to be carved. There by Grandma's plate lay the carving knives. Beautiful mahogany handles with flashing, stainless steel blades. They have been sharpened and are now ready for this most enjoyable task.

There is everything to eat on this table that anyone would enjoy. Everything is just right. But wait! Grandpa raises his right hand. This is the quiet signal. Then he bows his snowy, white head. We all follow suit. Now he grasps the table and gives thanks to God.

It is a wonderful occasion—Thanksgiving Day. Yet it seems to me that it would be far wiser to count our blessings every day in the year. Not just reserve them for one special day.

Yet—how many of us really count our blessings? Be honest. Most of us almost always want something more than we already have. We're always striving for bigger and better things. That can be an asset. As long as we remember we are human beings and not machines. As long as we take time out to help a neighbor. As long as we realize that God is the number one guy!

While you are trying so hard to keep up with the Smiths and Jones, don't lose your perspective. Or more to the point, don't lose the real meaning of living.

While you think that the fine clothes you wear, the big house you maintain, the big car you own makes you a better person—you are so wrong. You could not be more wrong!

The happiest couple I know are the poorest folk in the world. In money—they are poor. Yet, their heart is big and pure—and full of brotherly love.

I have heard people say, "Just what have I got to be thankful for?"

That is the question. And that, my friends, is a good question! Just start with yourself. Are you reasonably healthy? If you can walk, if you can talk, if you can hear, you are fortunate. If you can do an honest day's work and earn enough to eat on and support

Thanksgiving—With Movies at Home

Thanksgiving time is here again, and families all over the country will be observing the holiday in traditional style. And to most of us, "traditional style" means "family style" on this favorite of holidays.

Remember the poem about Thanksgiving Day we used to recite as youngsters? It went something like this: "Over the river and through the wood/To Grandfather's house we'll go..." Well, maybe you won't be going to Grandfather's house. Grandfather may be coming to your house—or you all may be gathering at Aunt Mary's or Cousin Bill's home this year. But the chances are the family will observe Thanksgiving by coming together to spend the day and share the feast that symbolizes a rich harvest.

At any holiday gathering, home movies usually make a hit—and Thanksgiving's no exception. Pleasantly relaxed after dinner—even if everybody's a bit too full of bird and braided mince pie—relatives are anxious to get caught up on the family's activities since their last big get-together. Crippled Children's Hospital

The Crippled Children's Hospital—dedicated to the free treatment of crippled and handicapped children whose parents are unable to pay for prolonged medical services—held its annual "Donation Day" on November 20th. The 120-bed hospital, located in Richmond, serves the entire state. Its approximately 400 patients per year come from practically every state and county throughout Virginia.

The objectives of the hospital are to remove completely, or at least reduce to a minimum, the handicap of each crippled child and during the child's prolonged stay in the hospital—to contribute to its educational, social and non-sectarian spiritual needs. Upon leaving the hospital each child is generally able to take his or her place in study, play and companionship with normal children and thus grow naturally into a useful and self-sufficient adulthood.

Some of the accomplishments of the hospital during the past year include over 30,000 days of hospitalization, 812 operations, 570 plaster casts applied, 1,687 x-ray treatments, 743 dental treatments and over 6,000 physical therapy treatments. All of these services were without cost to the children or their parents.

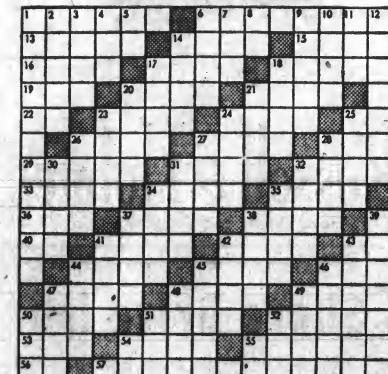

The Crippled Children's Hospital—founded in 1919—remains today the only hospital in Virginia dedicated completely to the rehabilitation of deformed and crippled children. A child residing anywhere in Virginia may enter the hospital for treatment if it is suffering from a disability requiring orthopedic or plastic surgery for which its parents are unable to pay.

The hospital depends on donations to continue the work of rehabilitating children who otherwise would be crippled or handicapped for life. Each year on Donor Day, it asks for the necessary funds to meet its operating expenses during the current year. The hospital does not participate in the proceeds from the sale of Easter Seals nor in any Community Chest.

On Donation Day, November 20th, all who are interested in this great humanitarian work are invited to visit, or write to, the Crippled Children's Hospital at 2924 Brook Road, Richmond 22, Virginia. Virginians may well count this unique hospital—and those whose support keep it operating—among their blessings during this Season of Thanksgiving.

"You Can't Run Away From It" Zany CinemaScope Romance

JACK LEMMON

Columbia Pictures' "You Can't Run Away From It," starring June Allyson and Jack Lemmon in CinemaScope with print by Technicolor, opens November 28 at the Beach Theatre. One of the funniest movies in maybe twenty years, according to Hollywood, "You Can't Run Away From It" is the story of the socialite and the reporter who sang, danced and romanced during a cross-country chase with a joy that is completely infectious.

Told hilariously, romantically and with a wink in its eye, "You Can't Run Away From It" presents Miss Allyson in a zestfully light-hearted type of characterization, and Lemmon as a footloose reporter who stumbles on the major story of his minor-league career. Charles Bickford co-stars in the zany new comedy with music in which Miss Allyson plays a socialite whose romance with an international playboy is viewed by her Texas oil king father with jaundiced eye. The father kidnaps her but she escapes and, in disguise, starts a bus trip from California to Houston, Texas to begin her polo-playing fortune-hunter. Aboard the bus is ebullient Jack Lemmon, as the bouncy Ensign Pulver of "Mr. Roberts." Here he is seen as a watered-down reporter re-joining the bus to plead for proper by the flimsy blanket that Lemmon gallantly erects between their beds; they throw off her father's pursuing detectives by posing as a scrapping Brooklyn couple; they take to the back roads and walk miles through farmland, fall into a stream, dine on carrots, spend the night in a hay field and hitch-hike. A misunderstanding sends the unhappy June home to her father and her playboy; but she runs away again when she realizes she is in love with the reporter.

A tuneful score by Johnny Mercer and Gene de Paul includes the title song as well as "Thumblin' a Ride," "Whatcha gonna do?" "Old Reporters Never Die," "Howdy Friends and Neighbors" and "Temporarily." Miss Allyson's splicer dance, in appropriate costume, is said to be a honey; so is the "Walls of Jericho" sequence.

Supporting players include Paul Gilbert as a bus-wolf, who's put in his place by Lemmon; Jim Backus as a thief who gives the stars a lift; Stubby Kaye as a jovial sailor; Allyn Joslyn as Lemmon's irate editor and Henry Youngman as a bus driver. The screen play based on a story by Samuel Hopkins Adams was written by Claude Binyon and Robert Riskin. Dick Powell produced and directed "You Can't Run Away From It."

Dress Rehearsal

ED SULLIVAN, backed by 25 TV sets, strikes a familiar pose during a rehearsal of the October 28 "Ed Sullivan Show." Sullivan, always on hand during dress rehearsals of the CBS-TV program, often makes notes on minor changes he'd like made for the evening's show. On October 28, Sullivan will present Elvis Presley in his second appearance on the program, and a special "surprise" feature called "Dynamite from Detroit." And what does Ed plan to do with all the television sets? Why, watch Elvis Presley on the October 28th show, of course!

More than 745,000 people work for the Bell Telephone System and its affiliated companies—almost as many people as the population of San Francisco. If they and their families were settled in one place, they would constitute a city of more than a million inhabitants.

In my travels by automobile I notice the growing practice of shell games or games of chance at roadside restaurants and other places. Is there anything to be done about this sort of thing?

We would suppose this would come under the heading of legal law enforcement. However upon inquiry, the American Automobile Association has taken note of these reports and has taken the matter up with the Internal Revenue Service and they have agreed to investigate incidents of gambling in such cases involving income tax evasion or failure to obtain gambling stamps under federal law.

It is becoming more and more difficult to obtain FHA and VA mortgage loans on houses. Can you give me any indication on why?

According to the National Association of Real Estate Boards increasing numbers of home buyers are acquiring their homes through conventional financing rather than government-backed mortgage loans for the following reason: There is a dwindling number of investors in the residential mortgage field; a trend of the prevailing interest rate to rise above the 5% level; increasing reluctance on the part of banks and other lenders to make loans on long-term mortgages, such as the government mortgages with low down payments; willingness on the part of local banks to meet the needs of builders and purchasers in their community who have established credit; and the sharp increase in discounts charged by lenders in connection with FHA or VA financed loans; sharp curtailment in new home construction and more financing of older and existing homes.

Has any one eaten food irradiated by atomic energy for press release purposes?

The Army has been feeding volunteers in Colorado for some months food irradiated by nuclear energy. Also at a Kansas City Research center, scientists have been eating irradiated food regularly for some weeks without noticeable harm. In hearings before the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy several witnesses from the Army Quarter master Department testified they also had eaten some of the food.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

SUPERDUCK IN HOME STRETCH

FORT STORY — Superduck, the Army's new swimming truck under test here since last August, has completed another phase of her tryouts, project officer Major Herman Nadler reported November 14.

Carrying a four-ton load, she came from a Navy LST boat first, a recognized drawback in amphibious operations has been the DUKW's need to unload backwards so its propellers and rudder is in the water at once.

If evaluation shows this test successful, Superduck's new design will have eliminated the problem.

Nadler said Superduck was placed at Fort Story for 120 days of testing. The examinations may wind up next month unless current plans for a final operation are completed.

Nadler, former executive officer of the 10th Amphibious Truck Battalion, was recently assigned as post special equipment project officer in the Fort Story S-4 (supply and transportation) Section.

FOXY GAME WARDEN

Sergeant First Class R. L. Dinger, newly appointed game warden here, expects to be a busy man — his job is foxier than it appears on the surface.

Fort Story isn't large enough to have a full time warden. Dinger is an Army sergeant during duty hours and does his game wardenning at odd hours.

As an elected officer of the Rod and Gun Club, he has his club duties to perform. As this game-rich Army reservation's only warden, he needs to be a strict enforcement officer.

Sergeant Dinger's major project at present is control of the post's swollen predatory animal population. A state game official invited by the Rod and Gun Club to inspect the post recently had reported "more fox and wild cat sign that I've ever seen in one small area before" on the Cape Henry military reservation.

Terminal surgeon Captain John N. Sims Jr. organized a series of hunts to be conducted each Saturday. The first shoot bagged five fox but the last effort accounted for only one.

Dinger, as Army reservation game warden, has no authority off post. On post he advises on game laws, controls hunting and fishing, checks licenses and — working through the provost marshal, causes violators to be cited.

In the club he keeps members informed on local laws and suggests propagation and conservation measures.

Sergeant Dinger, a farmer-coal miner from Pennsylvania before he entered the service, is a well known local sportsman. He replaces Sergeant First Class Donald George who transferred to the Far East last month.

THE TWILIGHTS

A harmony quintet of soldiers here has offered its services free to charitable organizations and activities in the Tidewater Area. They can be contacted through the Fort Story Speakers' Bureau.

The group, billed as the "Twilights," organized this summer while its members were serving on Operation SUNBEC-56 in the Far North.

Available after duty hours, the singers perform professionally for fun in the local area. But they're offered to entertain free for charities and other worthy causes. Their repertoire includes a wide range of popular and semi-spiritual tunes.

Their theme, a catchy original melody entitled "My Dearest One," is soon to be published. They wrote it themselves while with the SUNBEC operation. It is particularly suitable for their racy harmonizing style.

The "twilights" are scheduled to appear soon on a local Army-sponsored television show. They performed frequently in the North and have won considerable acclaim since the club here.

The members are all assigned in the 66th Transportation Company. They are Specialists Third Class Franklin Story, 20, of Ellaville, Ga., and Roosevelt Myles, 22, Rte. 1, Virginia Beach; and Privates First Class Anderson J. Smith Jr., 23, Bessemer, Ala.; Jimmie Kirkland, 25, Saginaw, Mich.; and James D. Lucy Jr., 23, Rte. 1, Virginia Beach.

Before entering the service, they held jobs ranging from spice mixer (Myles) to restaurant worker (Smith). Smith is the group's leader.

Fort Story's speakers' bureau also books Army speakers on a variety of subjects for community service and fraternal organizations. The bureau can be contacted through the Fort Story operator or by mail.

STORY NONCOM CITED

Master Sergeant Leonard E. Williams, maintenance sergeant of Fort Story's famous 554th BARC Platoon, was cited for "Meritorious duty in the face of what appeared to be insurmountable obstacles" while serving in the Far North this summer, according to a report received today from the Army Transportation Terminal Command at St. John's, Canada.

Terminal commander Colonel G. J. Bliner said Williams kept his vehicles — the Army's complicated 98-ton BARC's — 100 per cent operational despite adverse weather conditions and mechanical problems.

OPERATION NON-COM CITED

Members of Fort Story's 10th Transportation Battalion assisted American Legion Post 113 in presenting classroom flags to the John B. Day Elementary School in Great Neck, November 9.

The presentation was part of the Legion post's Armistice Day operations. Ten Fort Story soldiers led by Second Lieutenant A. S. Geller presented the flags to students while a Naval band provided music. Lieutenant Geller also was among speakers in the ceremony.

LANCASTER'S LANCERS GIVE — Mrs. Millie Lancaster, assistant director of the Service Club here, is a determined contributor to the Red Cross blood program.

She was busy in the service club last week when the bloodmobile came to Virginia Beach, but some friendly soldiers solved the dilemma. Several drove her to the Beach while others took over her club duties.

The final outcome?

The men who drove her to the bloodmobile donated their own blood and the ones who stayed behind followed suit later. The Bloodmobile collected 13 pints from the men and one from Mrs. Lancaster — her 21st.

RETIRED OFFICERS FETED

FORT STORY — Some 10 area retired officers visited here November 16 for an afternoon "open house."

Following a lunch at the officers' club with Fort Story commander Colonel George E. Woods Jr. and other top officers, the group visited a $100,000 landscaped construction here.

They also inspected the Army's new Superduck which has been under test here since last August and were shown Fort Story's 98-ton BARC's.

The guests visited the new post commander, were briefed on Fort Story activities by the staff and, finally, were honored at a retreat parade.

OFFICERS' CLUB INVITES

Tidewater area Naval officers have been invited to join the Fort Story Officers' Club on the Cape Henry beach, a club official announced here November 20.

According to club officer Captain John B. Thomas, associate membership is extended to active, retired and reserve commissioned and warrant officers of all services.

Fort Story, conducting most of the Army's amphibious truck training, The officers' club is located in a picturesque seashore surrounding adjacent to the beach.

In addition to its other services, the club offers two ballrooms: the Colonial Room and the Balinese Room. Thomas said he is already receiving reservations for holiday activities but several dates are still open for parties and special dinners.

JAMES R. DARDEN

U.S. Forces, Germany (AHTNC) — James R. Darden, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Darden, London Bridge, Va., recently was promoted to specialist third class in Germany, where he is assigned to the 11th Airborne Division.

Specialist Darden, who was graduated from Oceans High School in 1953, is a machine gunner in Company H of the division's 503d Infantry Regiment in Munich.

In the Army since 1954, he arrived overseas last March from an assignment at Fort Jackson, S. C.

PFC James T. Morris, 22, son of Weston L. Morris, Backbay, Va., is assigned to the 73rd Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion in Germany.

Morris, a driver in the battalion's Battery A, entered the Army in January 1955, completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C., and arrived overseas the following June. He was graduated from Creeds High School in 1952.

THE U.S.S. SARATOGA

The Navy has commissioned its mightiest ship yet — the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Saratoga. It's the biggest, fastest and most powerful ocean fighting vessel afloat. The Saratoga is the second ship to be launched of the class of the super-carrier U.S.S. Forrestal, but she embodies advances over her sister ship. About five city blocks and about a block wide, she has a flight deck more than four acres in size. The entire population of a city of 40,000 could stand on her deck. She'll carry a crew of about 3,800 officers and men.

About two-fifths of the 46.2 million Bell System telephones in service on January 1, 1956, were in communities of less than 50,000 population.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Veterans Administration is surveying 300,000 veterans seriously disabled in service to bring their family status up to date.

VA said only those veterans who are 50 percent or more disabled and who receive additional compensation because of dependents are involved in the survey.

The survey, conducted through the medium of a questionnaire, will not affect veterans whose family status was determined by VA since August 31, 1955.

Additional compensation for dependents of veterans was first authorized in 1948 and status of many disabled veterans has not been brought up to date since then.

Q — Is it possible for a young man or woman to pursue a regular high school education under the War Orphans Schooling program?

A — No. Regular high school training is prohibited by the law. To enroll in school below the college level, the young person must have completed or quit regular high school, and the below-college level course must be one that fits him for a vocational goal.

Q — I add the total disability income provision to my National Service Life Insurance term policy will the rates be based on my present age, or on the age that my premiums are figured on?

A — The rates would be based on the age that determines your regular premiums, and not on your present age.

Q — I have arranged for the beneficiary of my GI insurance policy to receive monthly payments in case anything happens to me. I have named no other beneficiaries. What happens if the beneficiary dies before all the insurance payments due have been paid?

A — The remaining unpaid installments will be paid in lump sum to your estate.

Q — I have a $10,000 Korean GI term insurance policy. I understand that after January 1, 1957, more of this insurance will be issued to Korean veterans. Will I have to give up my policy after that date?

A — No. Policies already in force on January 1, 1957, may be retained after that date.

Thomas A. Moore, veterans' service officer for the Virginia State-operated Division of War Veterans' Claims, in the Mc-

Kevitt Building at 203 City Hall Ave. in Norfolk, gives the following information on veterans' affairs:

"In nearly every community we find a former citizen soldier with one or both feet damaged during wartime service by wounds or injuries. To keep such men employable the Veterans Administration undertakes to supply them with shoes made to individual mold as prescribed by orthopedic surgeons. These shoes have been costing the VA from $45 to $100 per pair and sometimes the veteran has had to wait as long as 6 months for a badly needed new pair."

A new system is being put into effect which will save about $12 per pair and will cut down the waiting period to between 30 and 45 days. The new procedure centralizes the orthopedic section in New York, where individual lasts and patterns are stored, and from which orders can be promptly made up by private shoe making specialists.

Recalling the case of the boy with feet badly deformed by a land mine who waited until his shoes were almost gone before asking for a new pair, and who then waited for months until the shoes arrived, I was gratified to learn that old shoes can now be promptly repaired. Since many of us like old hats and old shoes best, a quick, relaxing, and refinishing job — practically a new pair of shoes — should turn out to be satisfactory.

A veteran in an isolated section will be pleased to learn that he will be given a self-addressed mailing carton and will be able to mail his old orthopedic shoes to New York with excellent prospects of getting the shoes back repaired in two weeks."

Moore's office operates under Harry F. Carper, Jr., Director, in the Veterans Administration Building in Roanoke, but is only one of the 16 offices throughout Virginia in the Virginia Department of Law, under Attorney General J. Lindsay Almond, Jr. Moore says there are many such veterans with permanently injured feet in his Area.

Moore visits the Community House on November 21 ahead of schedule because of the Thanksgiving holiday, and again on December 13, from 11:00 A. M. until 3:00 P. M. He follows this schedule on the second and fourth Thursday of each month.

ARTIFICIAL BREEDING HAS MANY ADVANTAGES IN DAIRY-ING

Alfalfa growers may one day be able to plant high-producing strains of alfalfa that will spread, producing several new plants from each "mother" plant.

Researchers at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station, along with those in several other states, are testing several varieties of "creeping" alfalfa, which they hope may help replenish stands which are thinned by adverse climatic, soil, and disease factors.

These spreading alfalfas are being evaluated for their reaction to diseases, productivity, survival when grown with grass, quality, hardiness, and adaptability—as well as effectiveness in spreading and persistence under grazing.

None of the present types of spreading alfalfa are productive enough for wide adoption, so scientists are crossing them with some of the outstanding hay alfalfas.

The main objective is to add spreading ability to the best of the hay types that have good resistance to diseases and insects.

The research with the creeping alfalfas in the various states is under the direction of agronomists at the USDA Agricultural Research Center, Beltsville, Md.

Notes From Your County Agent

By E. R. "DICK COCKRELL, JR.

NEW COMBINATION OF AUREOMYCIN AND SULFAMETHAZINE CONTROLS CECCAL COCCIDIOSIS IN CHICKS

A new combination treatment, using the antibiotic aureomycin with sulfamethazine, has proved 100 percent effective in preventing mortality of chicks infected with cecal coccidioses under experimental conditions.

Poultry disease researchers at VPI, reporting on U. S. Department of Agriculture tests, say affected chicks treated with these two drugs made faster gains than healthy ones fed the same ration without the treatment.

The most favorable results of the treatments came from feeding 100 grams of aureomycin per ton of feed with 0.125 percent sulfamethazine. No deaths occurred in chicks given this treatment, compared with a mortality rate of 43 percent in the uncollected, untreated group.

Chicks affected with cecal coccidioses usually show no symptoms until the fourth day of infection, and deaths generally occur on the fifth day. To produce worth-while benefit, the aureomycin-sulfamethazine treatment must be started at the time the chicks are exposed to infection.

SOIL TESTING

Farming without fertilizer is not profitable. Using too much or too little also cuts down on the profit. VPI agronomists say about the only way you will know how much lime and fertilizer to use is to take soil samples and send them to the VPI soils testing laboratory for analysis.

Now would be a good time to collect samples from land to be planted next spring. Beat the rush and do it now.

SPREADING ALFALFAS MAY BECOME HIGH-PRODUCING

Alfalfa growers may one day be able to plant high-producing strains of alfalfa that will spread, producing several new plants from each "mother" plant.

Researchers at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station, along with those in several other states, are testing several varieties of "creeping" alfalfa, which they hope may help replenish stands which are thinned by adverse climatic, soil, and disease factors.

Q - Can I graze or cut for hay my alfalfa after frost?

A - Yes! The initial cost of a trench silo is much less than that of an upright silo. And they require less labor and equipment. Plans for trench silos are available through the office of your county agent.

Q - Are trench silos reducing the cost of putting up silage?

A - Alfalfa can be grazed after frost, but leave enough growth to protect the crown through the winter. If you cut it, you can count on reduced yields next year.

Q - How can I get on Social Security?

A - To get Social Security coverage, you must work in employment or self-employment covered by the Social Security law. You will make contributions during your working years to provide an income for yourself and your family in case of your death. If you are employed, you and your employer share the tax; if you are self-employed, you pay all of the tax. Self-employed persons have to file a report of self-employment income along with their Federal income tax return. The rate of the self-employment tax is three-fourths as much as the total tax of employer and employee on the same amount of earnings.

The qualify for monthly Social Security payments when you reach 65 and retire, or to make payments possible for your survivors in case of your death, you must have been in work covered by Social Security for a certain length of time. The amount of work required is measured in "quarters of coverage." The number of "quarters of coverage" needed for retirement depend upon the year of your birth. You can get full details by writing your nearest Social Security Administration office and asking for their publication, OASI-36. Your postmaster or county agent can give you the address of the office serving your county.

"Thank God For America—Our New Home!"

This thankful Hungarian family of fourteen offered a prayer of thanksgiving as they sat down together recently for their first dinner in their new home in Chicago. One of the largest family groups to immigrate to the United States under provisions of the Refugee Relief Act of 1954, the father had reported to the 300,000 refugees come to this country under auspices of Catholic Relief Services-National Catholic Welfare Conference. It brought the overall total of homeless refugees resettled by the agency in free countries throughout the world since 1945 to 200,000, marking the greatest effort of any voluntary agency.

The Roman family came to America with twelve of their fifteen children ranging in age from 3 years to 26. Three daughters remained in France—two of them nuns and one married. With the assistance of the Hungarian Catholic League a home and job assurance have been provided for the family.

Roman, who is 58, and his 48-year-old wife, Elisabeth, fled with their eleven children to Germany from their native Hungary in 1945. The Russian troops had taken over the country. The flight was prompted by the father's fears of communist reprisals. As a young man, in the Hungarian Royal Army in which he served 28 years, he had taken an active part in the 1919 uprising against the communist regime of Bela Kun. Their nomadic existence finally took them to Vosges, France, from which place they immigrated.

The Romans now live in a modest home awaiting the day they can become American citizens. Mrs. Roman stated, "It was only the grace of God that let us rear our family through these years."

ready for serving or giving as handsome presents.

Wrap each gift cake in aluminum foil. Follow this with a wrapping of gay Christmas paper. Tie up colorful ribbon and a big bow. There you have a gift that will be welcome as any Santa leaves. Oh, one more thing! Here's a helpful hint for cutting your fruit cake. Before serving, chill it in the refrigerator. Then you will find the cake is easy to slice.

These recipes came from the American Dairy Association's Test Kitchen, so I'm sure they'll be mighty good. It's surely a grand suggestion to get your Christmas gifts—all ready before the last rush—and I can think of no more wonderful gift—can you?

Here's a mighty lush sounding cake for festive occasions.

Winter Wonderland Cake

1 package instant white cake mix

1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 package instant fluffy frosting mix

Flaked or shredded coconut
Silver dragees

Prepare cake mix as directed on the package, adding orange and lemon rinds. Bake in two 9-inch layers. Cool.

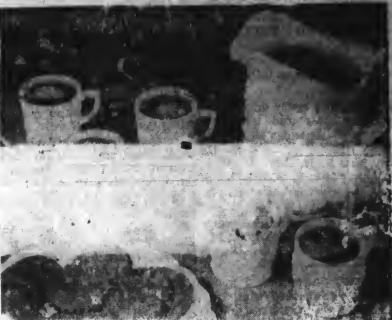

Prepare frosting mix according to package directions. Spread frosting between layers and over top and sides of cake. Sprinkle coconut generously over frosting and decorate top with silver dragees.

When using paraffin to seal homemade jam or jelly, remember to apply a second coat of paraffin before storing. Wait until the first coat is thoroughly cool, then pour a tablespoon of melted paraffin around the edge of each glass while turning the glass slowly. If by chance the jelly was not entirely covered with the first coating of wax, it will be covered by the second.

After glazing the tops of the cakes, decorate with candied cherries and almonds or other nuts. Here's where you can use your originality and decorate to suit your taste. Make-believe flowers are attractive, and easy. A candied cherry forms the center and almonds are used for petals. You'll think up various other pretty designs once you get started.

When you finished putting cherries and nuts on the cakes, glaze the tops again with the hot corn syrup mixture. Now the cakes are

Crowds Witness Beach Lighting

In spite of the bleak cold weather and wintry winds that prevailed last Friday evening, many youngsters of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County managed to get their parents out to hail old Santa as he proceeded from 17th Street down Atlantic Avenue to the reviewing stand at 25th Street.

At 8:00 P.M. 7-year-old Tony Edens, school-wide contest winner from the third grade of Mrs. Everett's School, pulled the magic switch that set thousands of lights a-twinkling on the magnificent community tree and all over the downtown area of Virginia Beach. Tony is the son of Commander and Mrs. Joseph A. Edens, 87th Street. Sh. Nick was on hand to greet the crowds and delight the children with all the Christmas candies they could carry.

Major Dusch opened the gala festivities which initiated the Civic Christmas program planned and executed through the joint efforts of the City of Virginia Beach, Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Association. Brief addresses were given by Mr. Harold Kelam, President of the Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Bob Cherry, President of the Retail Merchants Association. General Chairman, Howard Parks, acted as emcee.

After the crowd dispersed in favor of home and fireide, Santa took off for the North Pole with the promise to return to Virginia Beach on December 4th, at which time there'll be the annual holiday parade, followed on December 5th by the opening of the new Santa Land at the Community House 18th and Arctic. There Mr. Claus will preside until Christmas Eve with "Santa's Little Helper" and make gavels for the kiddies at the order of every day from 10:00 A.M. until 7:00 P.M.

Meanwhile, local merchants report that the Christmas shopping season is beginning to hit a busy stride here at the Beach with crowds of early shoppers milling through the gaily decorated, gift-laden shops.

Members of the county board heard today that building in the county during the past month totaled more than five million dollars.

WEST POINT (Special) — The forest industries of Virginia are adding $406 million annually to the state's wealth, according to Carl A. Olson, chairman of the Virginia Committee of American Forest Products Industries.

Olson, whose committee sponsors the Virginia Tree Farm program jointly with Virginia Forests, Inc., said the Department of Commerce's newest Census of Manufactures shows industries of the state in 1954 added $250 million in value through manufacture, distributed $131 million in payrolls and spent $35 million in capital improvements.

The $250 million value added through manufacture represented an increase of 32 per cent since 1947, Olson said.

Virginia forest industries, the report shows, employ more than 48,000 people. Forest industries are those which manufacture lumber, furniture and fixtures, pulp, paper and other paper and wood products.

Girl Rescues Infant from Fire

An 11-year-old girl dashed into a burning building in Princess Anne County Tuesday night to save the life of a five-month-old baby.

She is Pearl Ames, of the 600 block of Virginia Beach boulevard.

When fire broke out in a six-room bungalow next to her home, Pearl dashed into the blazing house and picked up five-month-old Larry Caffee and carried him to safety.

The child's mother, Mrs. Bernice Caffee, 23, was in another room at the time and did not know the fire had started.

She and her four other children, Caroline, 8, Isaiah, 6, Donald, 5, and Frank, 4, ran out of the house as flames swept rapidly through it.

Also living in the house were Earl Jones, 25, and Catherine Williams, 21, and her two children, Playboy, 2, and Tony, five months. They too ran to safety.

The building which housed all three Negro families, was destroyed, but two other buildings which were set alight by the fierce heat were saved by volunteer firemen.

Six volunteer fire units fought the fire. First on the scene was the unit from Davis Corner. They were followed by units from Kempsville, Thalassia, Ocean Park, Ocean and Princess Anne.

Electoral Board Chairman Answer Charges of Defeated Candidate

The chairmen of the Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach Electoral Boards have accused the defeated Republican candidate for Congress from the First District of "irresponsible statements and insinuations" about the conduct of the November 6 election in the county and city.

The "irresponsible" charges were leveled at Horace E. Henderson from newspaper accounts were unofficial and that the official count was considerably different. The candidate's charge of Republican election officials was refuted by the chairman, who pointed out that GOP representatives served at the polls and that the party is represented on both electoral boards.

Signing the letter were P. B. White, chairman of the Princess Anne Electoral Board and H. A. Holt Jr., chairman of the Virginia Beach Board.

"While we can understand Mr. Henderson's keen disappointment in being defeated in a close election," the letter reads, "we feel that a candidate for the responsible position of Congress of the United States should deal in fact and not make irresponsible statements and insinuations which impair the integrity of the officials of Princess Anne County and the city of Virginia Beach."

"We have made every effort to insure that elections are carried out in strict compliance with the election laws and shall continue to do so. It is our considered opinion that Mr. Henderson's accusations are without justification."

The Electoral Board chairman noted that Henderson had been asked by the Commonwealth's attorney to furnish any complaints or information on alleged irregularities in the Nov. 6 election but has not done so.

Listing the irregularities charged by Henderson in statements to the press, the letter does not deliver a point-by-point defense.

Three Great Battles Recreated In Epic Film "War and Peace"

Although primarily a story of people rather than historical events, with a triple love theme that is the most moving in all literature, the mammoth film version of "War and Peace," starring Audrey Hepburn, Henry Fonda and Mel Ferrer, is backgrounded by three of the greatest battles ever recreated on the motion picture screen, along with scenes of military operations that are reported to be staggering in their vast scope.

The three-hour-and-twenty-minute film, which opens Dec. 5 at the Beach Theatre, follows the Grande Armee of Napoleon through his seven-year invasion of Czarist Russia. Beginning with the first Russian defeat at Austerlitz, through the epic Battle of Borodino, the burning of Moscow, the retreat of the French forces through the cruel Russian winter over a country-side they themselves devastated, and the final blow at Berezina that sent their decimated armies stumbling back toward Paris.

Filmed in Italy in VistaVision and color by Technicolor, under the production hand of Dino De Laurentiis and the direction of King Vidor, the Paramount release used 18,000 troops of the Italian Army and thousands of horses to capture the historically accurate scenes. Muskets, cannon, equipment and uniforms are reproductions of those used and worn by the dragoons, hussars and grenadiers of the Napoleonic wars, while the sections of Moscow shown burning down around Napoleon's ears are exact replicas of the 1812 city.

Present plans are for Post Members to visit the entire area of Virginia Beach on the night of December 20th between the hours of seven and ten P.M. in order to facilitate their work. It is suggested that all donors show a porch light if possible.

Persons having knowledge of deserving cases should contact Mr. McFarland at the post home on Laskin Road. The American Legion plans to make it own distribution of baskets and so would ask that such solicitations be made early. This will enable the committee to check and avoid duplications that were common in past years.

While any donations will be taken and appreciated, the committee feels that the more staple items can be used to better advantage.

This is one of the series of lectures sponsored by the A. R. E. on Sunday afternoons.

Mr. Henderson Answered . . .

That letter of rebuttal issued by the chairman of the Virginia Beach and Princess Anne campaign on his part and a mild one concerning County electoral boards either should be conducted by the Democratic incumbent, Mr. Horace E. Henderson's charges of vote robbery was a genuine surprise — within irregularities in that section of the First Congressional District or should bring about a District is so heavily Democratic that often full-scale investigation. And the clincher, it there is no Republican opposition, seems to us, is this:

The two chairmen's statement that the source of political controversy in the South-commonwealth's attorney had asked Mr. Henderson to give him any information he then showed up at Virginia Beach the had on irregularities in the Nov. 6 election, chance of fraud there would appear slight, but that Mr. Henderson had not done so. The board-chairmen's statement, in contradiction, Perhaps he couldn't. In his charges of election of Mr. Henderson, that there are irregularities — when he also conceded the Republicans on the electoral boards and election to Representative Edward J. Robe among the judges, would hardly be made if untrue. If there were none, a state law would be violated: So, unless Mr. Henderson's investigation, but that Mr. Parsons' son can dig up some real evidence of misconduct to do so unless the complaints were accompanied by evidence.

Holiday Tragedies

One of the most frightening things in our world today is the ever-increasing number of deaths caused by accidents on the highways, in our homes and places of business:

Before you finish reading these few paragraphs another person will have died violently, needlessly, somewhere in the United States. It may be in a transportation accident, a fall, a fire . . . It may be at home, at work, or at play . . . mangled, crushed, poisoned, burned.

Frightening as this is, it is much less frightening than ignorance. We know how to prevent those auto accidents, those falls, those fires. We recognize our social responsibility.

Back The Attack On Traffic Accidents

From coast to coast, America is rallying forces against one of its greatest enemies — traffic accidents:

The tragic rise in the death toll this year has made 1956 the darkest year in traffic accident history.

In an all-out effort to halt the mounting toll of dead and injured, the National Safety Council is launching a nationwide campaign called "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents," which will continue through 1957.

The title for the new campaign symbolizes its purpose — to unite public officials and private citizens in an all-out fight against highway disaster.

Public officials are asked to back the Attack."

Despite Tighter License Laws in Many States, Many of Today's Drivers Lack Proper Training

ALTHOUGH the automobile has caused more death and destruction than almost anything else invented by man, many people still insist that driving is a right and that any fool in the country should be permitted to drive this deadly weapon.

The folly of this attitude is demonstrated by the fact that less than half of today's drivers ever had to prove they actually could drive before getting their license.

Further, it's been estimated that only 10,000,000 of our 70,000,000 drivers have had any type of professional training.

The other 60,000,000 either were self-taught or learned from a friend or relative who also may have been self-taught. Such a teacher probably learned to drive in days when traffic was less congested from "instructors" who were auto salesmen and who showed only how to start and stop the car.

A large number of the drivers who learned in the do-it-yourself school never had to take any test — they obtained their license through "grandfather clause" procedures in certain states that blanketed all drivers at the time a driver license law was adopted. This same escape permits drivers to renew licenses without an examination or re-examination. As a result, there are cases where licensees are being maintained by officers who don't even read the warning signs on the road or by persons who are totally blind.

Fortunately, great progress in improving driver licensing laws has been made since the end of World War II.

At present, 47 of the 48 states require new applicants to take a driving test as well as a written examination before a license can be issued.

Despite the improvements, safety authorities admit that we still have a long way to go.

Properly administered, they say, good licensing laws can have a tremendous impact on our traffic safety effort by keeping unqualified and irresponsible drivers off the roads and by requiring license revocations for flagrant law-breakers and accident repeaters.

"Driver licensing plays a major role in highway safety," said Rudolph F. King, registrar of motor vehicles in Massachusetts.

"In the distribution of driver licenses, we must put forth every effort to see to it that only those individuals who meet the required qualifications in the strictest sense of the word are permitted to have issued to them the privilege of driving on the highways," King stated.

"Ideally, the examination for a license should be uniform in all states and should meet the regulations of the highest standard states."

"This isn't done within a reasonable length of time, the states that have high standards should give serious consideration to denying the reciprocity privilege to persons from states that have lower standards.

"We should see to it that those who get a license by mere writing in for it or purchasing it from some corner store be restricted to operating in their own states."

The American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators is working to improve laws and uniform practices relating to motor vehicle ownership and usage in each of the 48 states.

In this drive, there are two major obstacles, said Basil R. Creighton, a assistant executive director of the AAAMVA.

"The first," he pointed out, "is political turnover. There must be a continuity of policy and administration of driver licensing programs."

"The second is public apathy.

Good licensing programs should be encouraged, unsound programs should be corrected.

"The courts have upheld the fact that driving is a privilege, now a right. There has been substantial improvement over the driver-licensing situation since World War II, but it still is up to the people to demand that the privilege of operating a motor vehicle be given only to those who are qualified and be taken away from those who abuse the privilege."

The Editor's Mail Box

Dear Sir:

As Chairman of the Electoral Board of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach, we have until this time refrained from entering into any controversy with reference to the November 6th election, because we had hoped that if anyone knew of any irregularities in the conduct of the election or had any complaints they would communicate them to the proper authorities for appropriate action. As of this date, we have received no such complaints. We are informed that before Mr. Henderson conceded defeat, Mr. Robert S. Wahab, Jr., Commonwealth's Attorney for Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach requested Mr. Horace Henderson to furnish to him any complaint or information concerning irregularities in the November 6th election, and Mr. Henderson has not seen fit to provide such information. Through the press Mr. Henderson has listed certain alleged irregularities:

1. The great disparity between the presidential and congressional votes.
2. Inability of campaign workers to obtain a poll tax list.
3. Refusal of election officials to permit a great number of qualified persons to vote.
4. Procedural slow down which occurred in the Little Creek area.

5. The absence of Republican representatives on the Electoral Board and precinct judges.

6. The fact that Henderson carried Virginia Beach by 51 votes until the absentee ballots were counted.

We now feel obliged to deal with Mrs. Henderson's complaints of alleged irregularities in the order listed and present to the public the true facts:

1. In one of the Norfolk newspapers of Wednesday, November 7th, 1956, in one place the vote for Congress in Princess Anne County was shown as 5524 for Henderson and 5866 for Robeson. Another tabulation on the same page, the votes for Congress in Princess Anne County is listed as 4306 for Henderson and 4911 for Robeson, but none of these figures were official and we do not know from what source the paper secured this information.

In an editorial in the same newspaper on Thursday, November 15th, 1956, the official total votes cast for Congress in Princess Anne County was overstated by more than 20% and Robeson's majority received in Princess Anne County was understated by more than 20%. This editorial appeared after the official canvass had been made and published in that newspaper. The official count showed that there were a total of 9253 votes cast for presidential candidates and 5217 votes cast for congressional candidates. Mr. Henderson had previously stated that many more votes were cast in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach for the congressional candidates than for the presidential candidates. The fact is that the contrary was true; 36 less votes were cast in the County and 253 less votes in Virginia Beach.

2. The law prescribes the number of copies of the poll tax list to be printed and posted at each voting precinct, many months before the election. The law does not provide that each campaign worker be furnished with a poll tax list by the County. Mr. Henderson knows that he could have copied the list from the public required to be retained in the Clerk's office.

3. If Mr. Henderson knows of any election official who wrongfully refused to let a qualified person vote, he should have immediately notified the proper officials of the County.

4. There were three times as many votes cast at the Little Creek Precinct as were ever cast before. A great number of these people were new residents and were unaware that the Virginia law required them to present to the judges a certificate of paid poll taxes, since their names did not appear on the paid tax records of the County, and they had to return home for their official receipts. Also, many service people stood in line to vote only to discover when they attempted to vote by active service affidavit without registering or payment of poll taxes that they did not satisfy the residential requirements of the Virginia voting laws.

5. There is now and has been for many years, an active Republican member on the Electoral Board of both Princess Anne County and the City of Virginia Beach. In the City of Virginia Beach the Republican judges who served at the polls were recommended by the Republican Committee. In Princess Anne County the Electoral Board has always followed the policy of having representatives of the two major political parties in each precinct.

6. A great percentage of the mail ballots cast at Virginia Beach were those of service personnel whose ballots were processed through the State Board of Elections in Richmond. Furthermore, Mr. Henderson had representation present at both Virginia Beach precincts where the list of absentee voters were posted and they had the opportunity to challenge any ballot they might have seen fit to question.

One of the managers of Mr. Henderson's campaign in the City of Virginia Beach has stated to the chairman of the Electoral Board of the City that from his observation no one had any reason to complain of the conduct of the election. To this moment his manager has listed certain alleged irregularities:

To insure the proper conduct of the election, the County Electoral Board held a meeting of judges and clerks the day before the election and issued detailed instructions as to the election laws. They were informed that the chairman of the Electoral Board and the Commonwealth's Attorney would be available throughout the day of election for consultation on any question which might arise.

While we can understand Mr. Henderson's keen disappointment in being defeated in a close election, we feel that a candidate for the responsible position of Congress of the United States should deal in facts and not make irresponsible statements and insinuations which impugn the integrity of the officials of Princess Anne County and the City of Virginia Beach who are charged with the duty of conducting elections and enforcing the election laws.

We are aware that voters were inconvenienced by having to stand in line too long to vote at two precincts. This was due to the unprecedented large number of voters at these places. Immediate steps are being taken to remedy this situation.

We have made every effort to insure that elections are carried out in strict compliance with the election laws and shall continue to do so. It is our considered opinion that Mr. Henderson's accusations of irregularities are without justification.

Very truly yours,
P. B. White

Joy Fund Contributions

Are you one of those clever people who always has his Christmas list made up way ahead of time? And probably has most of the gifts purchased and wrapped by this time?

If you are, have you sent in your Joy Fund contribution yet? And if you are not all done with the Christmas list making and shopping, be sure to jot down at the head of the list the Joy Fund Donation — no matter what the amount of it. Send your check in care of the Joy Fund to either of the two local weekly newspapers.

For Christmas is, as it should be, a time of sharing—not only of the material things of life, but also of the joyousness of the Christmaside.

The need is great. There are many people in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County who need our help to make the holiday a happy one for their children and for themselves.

Clothing, food, and toys too are needed by the Joy Fund. Old toys are repaired and repainted by the Firemen and the Volunteer Firemen. So regardless of the condition of the used toys you may have in your home, get them down to the Fire Station. If they cannot be repaired, parts are interchangeable.

Contributions this week are:

Anne H. Brooke 15.00
Robert G. Barr 5.00

COLONY RESTAURANT "BEST AT BEACH"

"The person who told us your food was the best on the Beach knew exactly what they were talking about," so said Esther Jolly, of Salem, Virginia, after a recent meal at the Colony Restaurant on Atlantic Ave. in the Jefferson Hotel building.

This patron's remark is typical of many who have discovered the enjoyment and fine food to be had at the Colony. (ADV.)

First Concert of Ass'n. Triumphant Success

Virginia Beach concert pianist Clifford Herzer joined forces with the Feldman String Quartet of Norfolk, consisting of Dora Marshall Short, first violin, Lawrence Mednick, second violin, Ronald Marshall, viola and Margaret Probst, cello, and brought the first concert of the Virginia Beach Concert Association to a resounding, triumphant conclusion with Dvorak's Piano Quintet Opus 81.

The capacity audience was quite demonstrative in expressing its approval of the brilliant rendition of this rarely heard work which is as full of deeply touching pages as it is of less expressive ones. The high spot of the evening was for this listener undoubtedly the poetic "Dumka," the wistful second movement, woven around a beautifulysonorous theme, given just the ideal romantic touch by Mr. Herzer and the Quartet.

The balance between the strings and the piano was at all times impeccable, certainly no negligible feat. The piano sounded brilliant though never overpowering.

Compared to the Quintet the two other offerings of the evening did not quite come up to the same standard. Both the Haydn "Emperor" Quartet and the Shubert

SIXTH FLEET (PHIBCO) — Marcus D. Adams, steward first class, USN, husband of the former Miss Evelyn J. Lamb of Princess Anne Co., Virginia Beach, Va., is serving aboard the attack transport USS Cambria with the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Since joining the fleet the men of the Cambria have enjoyed liberties in Athens, Greece and Gibralter where they have visited the Acropolis, the Parthenon, and many other famous points of interest.

Notes From Your County Agent

BY E. R. "DICK COCKRELL, JR.

VIRGINIA DELEGATION AT AT- TEND NATIONAL 4-H CON- GRESS IN CHICAGO

VPI Agricultural Extension Service and or Experiment Station.

Q—How much damage has been there to peanut and soybean crops because of continuous rains?

A—Soybeans have suffered damage that will vary from slight in some fields to almost complete loss in others. The most severe injury in the state of the average damage is likely to be much higher than the estimated 10 to 15 percent.

Peanut damage has been extremely severe in fields that had been dug and not shocked. Considerable damage is also reported on peanuts shocked green just before the rainy weather. Severe pod shedding likely will occur on the peanuts dug after the rain. All factors considered (pod disoloration, shedding, and rotting) a 25 percent damage to the crop is a conservative estimate.

Q—Is it safe to let cattle and hogs eat the damaged peanuts and soybeans in the field "free choice?"

A—Careful about turning cattle on soybeans until they are shelled. Go ahead with both cattle and hogs on peanuts.

Q—How much can lawns heavily infested with grubs be treated now?

A—Now that cold weather has set in, it is too late to control many of the species of turf grubs as they go down below the frost line to overwinter. Here they are protected from insecticides. Better wait until late spring or early summer when the ground temperature is around 70°.

Q—How can lawns be treated now?

A—Where there is danger of odor from dead animals in the house, the best control is to use traps. Enlarge the trigger or bait to fit it. Set the trap where the rat or mouse will come in contact with them. Use baits containing warfarin or pival in protected locations in buildings where feed is stored.

Q—What will be the value per acre 10 years hence on pine seedlings planted this season?

A—The trees will not be marketable 10 years from now. If grown in a pulpwood rotation, they will bring around $100 an acre in 30 years. However, reforestation has many benefits other than monetary.

The state 4-H livestock and poultry teams and Virginia's champion sheep shearers will also be in Chicago competing at the International Livestock Exposition, which runs concurrently with the Congress. The sheep shearers are from Nenly Neely of Rockbridge and Wade Crawford of Albemarle. Members of the livestock team are: Billy Fowle and Luther Zirkle, Shenandoah; Billy Carr, Isle of Wight; and Donald Harris, Fairfax. Members of the poultry team are: Billy Weaver and Tommy Speakman, Gloucester; Harold Bowlin, Franklin; and Jennings Kern, Rockingham.

Around 1,600 official delegates, leaders and chaperones are expected for the Congress. Headquarters will again be at the Conrad Hilton hotel. International representatives are expected from several foreign countries, including Ecuador, Formosa, Paraguay, Netherlands, Italy, Thailand, Gurkha, Philippines, and other countries.

Among the entertainment features of the Congress will be the Chicago Symphony "Pro" concert, the National Barn Dance, a Cinorama production, Pudrige University Glee Club, a national 4-H dress revue, and numerous parties and banquets. A motor coach tour of Chicago and visits to the Museum of Science and Industry and the Museum of Natural History also are on the agenda. Virginia's delegates will return Saturday, December 1.

The MIXING BOWL ..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK

SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles . . . for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

CRANBERRIED STUFFED YORK CHOPS

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup water
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup fresh cranberries
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
3 slices canned pineapple
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup raisins
1 cup fresh bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter, soft
1 tablespoon minced onion
3 tablespoons hot water
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
4 loin or rib pork chops, 1-inch thick
Salt and pepper

In a saucepan combine water, cranberries and sugar. Bring to a rapid boil and cook 8-10 minutes, or until the berries pop. Stir in halved pineapple slices. Combine raisins, crumbs, butter, onion, hot water and salt. Add $\frac{1}{4}$ cup well-drained cranberries from previousy made sauce. Mix well. Trim chops if they are very fat. Silt each chop from bone side almost through to fat making a generous pocket. Fill with stuffing mixture. Secure with wooden picks, or small skewers. Brown chops in hot greased skillet, turning once, about 10 minutes to a side. If skillet is overproof and has cover, continue to use it; otherwise place chops in a greased casserole. Pour remaining cranberry sauce (berries and juice) over chops and place pineapple slices over and between chops. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 45 minutes. Remove cover and continue baking for an additional 15 minutes, or until chops are tender. Makes 4 servings.

Bye — now — see you next week—

Use Fall Fruits In Low-Calorie Spread

If you've never tasted Cranberry Conserve, you've a treat in store for you. This sweet but tangy spread combines some of the best of the season's harvest of fruits . . . fresh cranberries, apples, oranges and raisins.

Did you especially enjoy this delicious conserve for its taste? Well, it contains approximately one-fourth the calories of the same spread made with sugar. A tablespoon of this spread contains just 12 calories! Had it been sweetened with sugar, the calorie-count would jump to 46 calories per tablespoon.

Best part is that no one can taste the difference. For Scaryl is the sweetener that has a natural sugar-like taste, even when cooked at high temperatures. This means it can be an important ingredient in low-calorie cakes and baking. Unnecessary calories are eliminated without sacrificing any of the flavor or enjoyment.

You'll want to take advantage of the fresh cranberries now on the market by putting up a good supply of this sugarsweet spread. Then you'll be able to enjoy this delightful low-calorie conserve for many months to come.

Cranberry Conserve

(Sugarless)
4 cups fresh cranberries
1 cup water
4 medium apples, pared and sliced
4 medium oranges, pared and sliced

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup seedless raisins tablespoons Scaryl solution, or 168 Scaryl tablets

Wash and pick over cranberries. Combine with water in a large saucepan. Cook until fruit is tender. Add apples, raisins and Scaryl. Cook until mixture is of desired thickness, about 30 minutes. Turn into sterilized glasses. Seal immediately.

Makes five 8-ounce glasses, 16 tablespoons each. Each tablespoon contains 12 CALORIES; 0.1 gram protein; 0.08 gram fat; 3.8 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each tablespoon would contain 46 CALORIES.

your own — Simply place the unopened box of fresh cranberries in the freezing unit — When ready to cook them — use the berries either frozen or defrosted.

DECORATOR SPEAKS TO CAVALIER JUNIOR WOMEN:

Hints on how to recognize and refinish an antique were given by David Sherman, Newport News interior decorator before the November meeting of the Cavalier Junior Woman's Club.

Before buying an antique, he instructed them, look on the drawer for dovetailing (at the corners). "True dovetailing in an old piece is irregular and may be seen from each side of the corner. Machine dovetailing is evenly spaced and is seen from only one side. Inspect the bottom of the furniture for wear," he said. "Old pieces show signs of wear by uneven appearance."

The way to remove old paint, varnish and shellac is with the specific remover for such finishes, he explained, paint remover, varnish remover or shellac remover.

In using the remover, he instructed, "Flow it on with a brush. It is most important to let the piece stand for ample time so the properties of the remover may do the work of softening and penetrating. Then use more remover with a cut-off brush (half of berries cut away), and fine steel wool to remove the finish."

The way to remove veneer, he said, is with a hot iron. "Use brown paper so as not to ruin the wood," he said.

After removing the old finish, the furniture must be flushed with a neutralizer or the remover will continue to penetrate and raise the grain of the wood, he warned. Alcohol or a strong soap solution are neutralizing agents.

"To bleach, use chlorox, oxalic acid or commercial bleach and wash thoroughly after bleaching," Sherman said. To put color back into the cleaned and bleached wood he suggested using one of three stains—alcohol base, water base or oil stain. He also suggested Minwax, a combination stain and wax preparation as the easiest product to work with at home.

Wax is used only on soft woods such as pine and poplar, Sherman told the clubwomen. "Shoe polish is one of the best grades of

Hot Chocolate Eggnog

Combining the best features of a piping hot chocolate drink and the creaminess (but not the potency) of eggnog, this newly created winter beverage joins the ranks of treats for young-timers during the holidays. One envelope of chocolate milk shake mix is the ingredient that does the trick, and when combined with two eggs, milk, sugar, nutmeg, and vanilla, makes a creamy winter beverage that is especially nourishing for youngsters "on-the-go" during the busy holiday season.

HOT CHOCOLATE EGGNOG

1 package chocolate milk shake mix 1 1/2 cups milk
4 rounded teaspoons sugar 2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup water 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Dash of nutmeg

Combine Kool-Shake and sugar in a saucepan. Add water and mix well. Stir in milk and eggs. Heat, stirring occasionally. Add vanilla and nutmeg. Serve at once. Makes about 4 servings.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

NEW FACES

Three companies of the Army Transportation Training Command were transferred here from Fort Eustis, Fort Story's parent Army Transportation Corps post, November 26.

The companies, all transportation units formerly stationed at Fort Eustis, have a combined authorized strength of 474 men. They brought all their organizational equipment in the permanent move and married men moved their families into the local area.

The companies are the 604th Heavy Boat Company and the 610th and 611th Terminal Service Companies.

MOCK WAR

Fort Story was involved in a grim mock war involving eight units of the Transportation Training Command in an Army Training Test from November 19th to the 21st.

In the planned situation, the enemy "X" Field Army was assumed to have landed in Hampton Roads. It has penetrated to a line connecting Petersburg, Richmond and Fredericksburg but had been halted by determined U. S. resistance. The enemy was reported to have complete air control and had launched a chemical-radio-logical-biological attack.

Involving in the test were units from both Fort Story and Fort Eustis, 37 umphires including officers from the Army Transportation School at Fort Eustis and two rifle platoons of "Aggressors".

The FS 700 and the MV Hickory Knoll—a training ship also took part, moving 360 short tons of training cargo each from Fort Eustis to Fort Story. LCU's and other craft helped to support the operation.

The units simulated the part Transportation Corps troops would take if the Tidewater Area ever were invaded. Purpose of the exercise was to test the efficiency of the training now underway and to measure the soldiers' readiness for emergency.

All Army units undergo similar Army Training Tests annually.

LINCOLN VISITS

Major General Rush B. Lincoln Jr., commanding general of the Army Transportation Training Command at Fort Story and Fort Eustis, visited Fort Story November 19 for an afternoon inspection tour.

STORY SINGERS

Two Fort Story singing acts are tentatively scheduled to appear on the local Navy-sponsored "Gator Show" over station WVEC-TV, Channel 15, the Fort Story Speakers' Bureau announced November 26.

Specialist Third Class James A. Pettigrew, 23, of Winston-Salem, N. C., was scheduled for an appearance November 29. Pettigrew, a semi-classical bellied singer, and with soldier shows in the Far East, appears on Japanese television.

Fort Story's Twilight—the five-man harmonizing group that organized while participating in last summer's Army Transportation Corps supply operations in the frigid Far North—have been tapped for November 6.

Both acts are available to local charitable organizations and activities through the Fort Story Speakers' Bureau which also provides military speakers on request.

News for and About Local Servicemen

One of the men in this area who is on the Temporary Disability Retired List of the Army recently received orders to report to a military post for a physical examination. Since he had elected to receive VA compensation instead of disability retired pay, he did not want to lose time from his job for the 3 days of examination and travel time involved. His thought was that since he was under jurisdiction of the VA he was no longer required to take the periodic examinations as directed by the Army.

If a veteran is retired for disabilities obviously permanent and ratable at 30% or more he is placed on the permanently retired rolls. If, however, his disabilities are such that they may improve, he goes on the Temporary Disability Retired List, subject to recall for a physical examination by the Army at intervals of 18 months for 5 years, and he must report as directed regardless of his han-ing given up retirement pay in favor of VA compensation. During the 5 year period he may be permanently retired on any examination which shows no improvement.

Army retired personnel are still under Army control in some respects. Failure to respond to orders for examination without satisfactory cause can result in loss of retirement privileges.

Food with a possible 40 percent loss of its top executives during the next five years through retirement alone, Veterans Administration announced a management development program to select and train its future executives at all levels.

Harvey V. Hickey, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, said the program is designed to maintain and improve the already high caliber of the agency's personnel.

Civil Service Commission has characterized the program as one of the broadest and most far-reaching yet introduced in Government for the development of management personnel.

After many months of development, the first phase of the program now is being introduced for the positions centralized to the Administrator for appointment, such as managers and assistant managers of field stations and, in general, all key officials in Central Office at Washington.

The second and third phases, when instituted, will involve (1) executive positions centralized to VA's three big operating departments, such as division and service directors in field stations, and (2) those decentralized supervisory positions under the control of field stations.

While no definite dates have been set as yet for the inauguration of the second and third phases, VA expects them to be underway on a gradual basis in the next few months.

Q — I am planning to sell my GI house. How do I go about applying to VA for a release from liability to the Government?

A — You must submit a written request to the VA Regional Office which processed your loan. The request should include your VA loan number if you know it; address of the property; name and address of the proposed purchaser, and name and address of the lender who holds the note and mortgage.

Thomas A. Moore, Area Director of the Virginia State Division of War Veterans' Claims at 306 McEvitt Building, 203 City Hall Avenue in Norfolk, advises that he now has a supply of the Veterans Administration forms which are to be filed by every man on active duty in the Armed Forces who had any government service life insurance of any kind that has been put on waiver of premiums under the law passed in April 1951, and who will be on active duty through May 1, 1957.

The questionnaire is being given out by the Armed Forces, but many servicemen may not have been notified or given the form by their Commanding Officers or Insurance Officers.

The questionnaire is to ascertain whether or not those men that it applies to wish to continue their five-year level premium term insurance after January 1, 1957, by taking up the premium now either by allotment from service pay, or by direct remittance of premium effective the end of the premium month before May 1, 1957. Those men with permanent plans of such service insurance can elect on the questionnaire to cancel the waiver of premiums at the end of the premium month preceding May 1, 1957. There is also a space on the form for those men who do not wish to continue their term insurance to advise the Veterans Administration.

After receiving the questionnaire, the Veterans Administration will further correspond with the serviceman and send him the proper forms to fit his case, so that he can continue some government insurance protection after January 1, 1957. On that date all government insurance protection will end unless some action is taken by the serviceman to take up the insurance premium.

Moore explains that this is an urgent problem for servicemen who wish government insurance protection after the first of next year, because if a waiver of premiums under the Act of April 1951 is in force and death occurs on or after May 1, 1957, no Dependency and Indemnity Compensation will be paid under the new Servicemen's and Veterans' Survivor Benefits Act, to the widow and for children. However, death compensation may be paid under the old law administered by the Veterans Administration. Moore says that D.I.C. under the new law, in many cases, would be greater than compensation under the old law to the widow and for children. The questionnaire is VA Form 8-5782.

The veterans should bring his dates of all service, insurance policy numbers, and service numbers, with him when he receives assistance in completing the questionnaire.

Moore will be at the Community House on December 13 and December 27, 1956, and again on January 10 and January 24, 1957, the second and fourth Thursday of each month.

TWO GIRLS,

A CHEVY

AND A RECORD!

A meaningful achievement in automobile performance

Most automobile performance records you read about these days are set on a track or closed course. The results are usually pretty difficult to relate to the kind of day-in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up a new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!

A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel, under the same conditions you drive in every day. It broke the record for the coast-to-coast run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

This last fact, we think, is even more important than the impressive new record set by Chevrolet. Oh sure, it's nice to know that a Chevrolet can cross the country in one uninterrupted span—and do it in less than 57 hours. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours. But it's only when you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ that the true significance of this record run becomes apparent.

When a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new transcontinental record, you know that car is easy to drive. You begin to see what we mean by smooth-cruising comfort . . . by nailed-to-the-road stability . . . by sweet-feeling sureness of control . . . by quicksilver responsiveness.

We'd like you to get to know this new Chevy. Stop in and see how beautifully it does all the things a car should do.
